India win low-scoring opener against SA by 8 wickets

Thiruvananthapuram: Arshdeep Singh and Deepak Chahar hit the South Africans hard with some magical swing bowling before Suryakumar Yadav's little gem on a difficult track ensured an easy eight-wicket victory for India in the first T20 International on Wednesday. PFI, 8 affiliates banned for five yrs, SDPI spared

Home ministry notification says the outfit has links with global terror groups like ISIS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

Police deployed outside PFI office in Coimbatore | S SENBAGAPANDIYAN

THE Centre on Wednesday banned the Popular Front of India (PFI) for five years, less than a week after the National Investigation Agency conducted countrywide raids and arrested hundreds of its leaders and activists primarily across Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Telangana, Andhra Pradesh and the Northeast.

The PFI later put out a statement saying it stood disbanded after the ban, adding as "law-abiding citizens of the country, we accept the decision". Curiously, the government chose not to include the PFI's political front, the Social Democratic Party of India (SDPI), on its list of banned outfits.

The proscribed affiliates and fronts of the PFI are the Centre are Rehab India Foundation, Campus Front of India, Junior Front, All India Imams Council, National Confederation of Human Rights Organisation, National Women's Front, Empower India Foundation and Rehab Foundation, Kerala. They all were outlawed under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA).

Claiming that probes have established a hub and spoke relationship between PFI and its associates, a notification issued late on Tuesday by the MHA said they were pursuing a secret agenda to radicalise a particular section of the society to undermine democracy.

Pointing out that UP, Karnataka and Gujarat had already sought its ban, the notification warned that any delay in curbing PFI could be used by it to "continue its subversive activities", "encourage and enforce terror based regressive regime", "radicalise a particular section of society" and "aggravate activities which are detrimental to the integrity, security and sovereignty of the country".

Some of the founding members of PFI were leaders of the banned Students Islamic Movement of India. The government claimed PFI has links with Jamat-ul-Mujahideen Bangladesh. Besides, it said it has found a "number of instances of international linkages of PFI with global terrorist groups like Islamic State".

The Centre will set up a tribunal within 30 days to adjudicate whether or not there is sufficient cause for declaring the PFI an 'unlawful association'.

Several opposition leaders demanded similar action against RSS. Jairam Ramesh of Congress said his party has always been against communalism. CPM and AIMIM criticised the ban though they said they were against its objectives.

Murder cases from K'taka, Kerala cited for ban

The MHA gazette notification banning PFI mentions the number of murder cases (of right-wing members) perpetrated by it was maximum (four each) from Kerala and Karnataka. "The governments of UP, Karnataka and Gujarat have recommended to ban the PFI," read the notification. P6

Most of the important PFI leaders were trained across the border and were operating from there. PFI was involved in many disruptive activities and their actions have been proved — CM Basavaraj Bommai

Two teens die after falling into 30-ft deep pit in Gadag

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @ Gadag

IN what can be called a tragedy waiting to happen, two teenagers died after their bike fell into a 30-foot deep gorge on Nagavi-Beladadi Road in Gadag district around 8 pm on Tuesday. Absence of signboards and streetlights is being blamed for the incident.

The deceased are Manjunath Madar (19) and Basavaraj Javalabenchi (17), both from Lakkundi village. They were on their way to Yelishirund from Lakkundi village to join a birthday party of Manjunath's nephew. They were also carrying a cake with them.

As the news of the incident spread, local villagers and farmers gathered at the spot in the wee hours and staged a protest.

Gadag district's Nagavi village received heavy rain in the recently following which a portion of the road between Nagavi and Beladadi caved in, creating a huge pit -- more than 30-foot deep.

A Gadag Rural police team visited the spot and shifted the bodies of the victims to Gadag Institute of Medical Sciences around 12 noon, for the post-mortem. "We have repeatedly told the authorities that many people from Gadag and other parts travel to Venkatapur, Shirahatti and other villages via this route. Daily commuters are aware of the damaged road but outsiders are clueless about the condition of the road," said a villager.

Gadag Assistant Commissioner Annapurna Mudukammanavar and Tahsildar Kishan Kalal visited the spot. "We have instructed officials to repair the road and put up some sign boards and barricades to avoid such incidents," said Annapurna.

9 months on, retired Gen Anil Chauhan is govt's pick for Chief of Defence Staff

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Wednesday appointed Lt Gen Anil Chauhan (Retired), a former eastern Army commander and director general of military operations, as the next Chief of Defence Staff (CDS). CBI RAIDS MULTIPLE PROPERTIES OF DKS

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

AHEAD of the Congress party's Bharat Jodo Yatra's entry into poll-bound Karnataka, the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) raided several properties belonging to KPCC chief D K Shivakumar and asked his family members to provide property papers and other documents.

The agency carried out the search and seizure operations at the Congress leader's properties in Doddalahalli, Kanakapura and Santekodihalli.

Confirming the raids, Shivakumar said, "CBI teams have visited my houses in Doddalahalli, Kanakapura and Santekodihalli. I had already given details of my property papers. Disproportionate assets cases have been filed against others too, including those in the BJP. But the CBI is being used only against me, whereas cases against others are being handled by the Anti-Corruption Bureau (ACB)." P6

Raj crisis: Sonia to meet Gehlot today

SHAHID FARIDI @ New Delhi

THE suspense over the Congress presidential candidates moved to the penultimate day of filing of nomination papers, as the widely expected meeting between party president Sonia Gandhi and Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot got postponed to Thursday. Gehlot was closeted with his confidants right through the day at Jaipur and was expected to arrive in Delhi late in the night.

As suspense over whether or not Gehlot would agree to resign as CM to file his nomination papers continued, names of other Congress probables started doing the rounds. Right on top of the list was that of former CM of Madhya Pradesh Digvijaya Singh, who shares a close personal equation with Rahul Gandhi. Gandhi family loyalist Ambika Soni could also be on the ballot.

Others include the party's top Dalit leaders like Leader of Opposition in Rajya Sabha Mallikarjun Kharge, AICC general secretary Mukul Wasnik, former Maharashtra CM Sushil Kumar Shinde, former Lok Sabha Speaker Meira Kumar and former Haryana president of Congress Kumari Selja. Party treasurer Pawan Kumar Bansal's name is also being mentioned.

On Wednesday, Sonia consulted Ambika Soni and A K Antony, who was called from Kerala. She was advised to meet Gehlot one last time to try and iron out the differences.

The two observers — Ajay Maken and Kharge — shielded Gehlot in their report after returning from Jaipur where they were not able to meet the party MLAs loyal to the CM. These MLAs opposed to the high command's plan to replace Gehlot with his former deputy Sachin Pilot and refused to sign a resolution authorising Sonia to pick the successor. P11

HC raps Lokayukta, stays its order on encroachment

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Wednesday stayed the proceedings initiated by the Karnataka Lokayukta on a petition filed by Bagmane Developers Private Limited (BDPL) against the action taken by the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) which demolished alleged encroachments on storm water drains (SWD) in Bagmane Tech Park in Mahadevapura.

A division bench of Acting Chief Justice Alok Aradhe and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty passed an interim order after hearing a public interest litigation (PIL) filed by Samaj Parivarthana Samudaya, represented by its president S R Hiremath.

The court noted that in this case the Lokayukta prima facie appears to be outside its jurisdiction under Section 8 of the Karnataka Lokayukta Act, 1984.

Soon, single ticket to tour K'taka seamlessly

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IN a month, domestic and foreign tourists wanting to travel to or within Karnataka for sight-seeing will be able to book entire packages from their respective locations in a seamless manner. The Tourism Department has mooted a plan with an eye on drawing a much larger number of tourists to the state's various locations, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said on Wednesday.

The scheme will enable tourists to book a single ticket which will be all-inclusive with flight bookings, destination visits, guides and food. This will be implemented under a public private partnership (PPP) model. The CM said this was essential to ensure tourists travel hassle-free and are satisfied.

Speaking at the launch of The Revised Tourism Policy 2026, as a part of World Tourism Day celebrations, Bommai said Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation (KSTDC) is working on launching the one-ticket circuit. The Tourism Department is working on preparing two circuits — north (Hampi and surroundings) and south (Mysuru and surroundings). P6

Criminal cases will be filed in TDR scam, BBMP chief tells High Court

So far, 6 FIRs have been registered against officials for their involvement in irregularities

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

AFTER the Karnataka High Court expressed displeasure over BBMP not acting against officials involved in alleged Transfer of Development Rights (TDR) scam, BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said criminal cases will be filed. So far, six FIRs have been registered against officials for their involvement in TDR irregularities. Girinath said future TDR projects will be handed over to BDA.

Girinath said appropriate legal action will be taken against retired and current employees involved. The government is preparing to file criminal cases against officers still in service, and a list of those involved in the illegality has also been prepared, he said.

Retired executive engineer Ramegowda D, retired joint commissioner Devaraj KS, retired assistant joint commissioner Umanand Rai, retired assistant tahsildar Gangegowda MA, retired surveyor Gullappa, and retired village accountant Agasemani are some of the accused. The alleged fraud took place in 2015, and an FIR was registered recently, following a court case related to the issue.

In TDR scheme, Development Right Certificates were to be issued to owners in exchange for land handed over to the municipality for development works. The allegations are that Palike officials allegedly fudged details, and other irregularities. Now, the government has instructed BBMP to prepare earlier TDR scheme as per the new Act and hand it over to BDA.

We have just started the process of issuing Transfer of Development Rights certificates through our agencies. The move will offer much relief to many property owners waiting for them

Relief for owners as govt okays issue of certificates

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

IN a major relief for land owners who have parted with their properties for government infrastructure projects but have waited for years to get their TDR certificates, the State Government has now set the ball rolling to speed up the process by simplifying it.

These certificates permit one to avail double the total area of land that has been surrendered for developmental works or to transfer it to someone else in need of the land in exchange of money. This can be availed within the local planning authority's jurisdiction.

"We have just started the process of issuing TDR certificates through our agencies. The move will offer much relief to many property owners waiting for them," Additional Chief Secretary, Urban Development, Rakesh Singh, told TNIE. The issuance of TDR to land losers went through massive delays due to various stages of the process being passed on repeatedly between BBMP and BDA, said a source.

The State Cabinet had in June 2021 cleared an amendment to Section 14B of the Karnataka Town and Country Planning Act to simplify it and thereby expedite the process. "The stages in connection with issuance of the TDR involved forms moving to and fro between BBMP and BDA and any other agencies involved. After the amendment was introduced, all the processes will be taken care of by BBMP which will be like a single window clearance system. When it finally submits the file to BDA, its TDR cell will just go ahead and quickly issue the certificate without any delay," he said.

The easing of the process would motivate other property owners to part with their properties readily for present and future infrastructure projects, the source added.

In a different kind of case related to TDR, the HC, while hearing a petition filed by 10 petitioners in April this year, ordered BBMP and the State Government to start issuing these certificates within three months. They had surrendered their land for widening of roads proposed in the Revised Master Plan 2015 but never got their certificates as the BBMP later said the lands were no longer needed.

After 15 days, only 5,000 metres of rajakaluve encroachments cleared

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP), as part of its recent drive to demolish encroachments on storm water drains, has so far cleared 5,000 meters in Mahadevapura zone in the last 15 days.

Speaking to TNIE, BBMP Chief Engineer Lokesh said the Palike used revenue records to list out the encroachments in Mahadevapura zone and demolished them.

"Encroachment were found in Panathur, Hoodi, Doddanekundi, Varthur, Kundalahalli, Munnekolala, and Kasavanahalli in Mahadevapura zone. According to the markings done by land surveyors, the encroachment clearance operation was carried out," said an official.

BBMP Chief Engineer Basavaraj Kabade of Mahadevapura Zone has instructed the officials of the storm water drain division to quickly complete the survey work and resume the encroachment clearing operation.

Meanwhile, the Palike on Wednesday demolished the compound wall of Janapriya Lakeview Apartment (Phase 2) at Kodichikkanahalli in Bommanahalli zone, for allegedly encroaching 11 ft of a drain.

"We demolished the compound wall and a gate. We found encroachment measuring 11ft wide and 100 ft long there. Demolition drive will continue even on Thursday," a senior official told TNIE.

79.19 lakh voters in BBMP final electoral list

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @BENGALURU

THE Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) on Wednesday released the final list of voters for the elections to the civic body that is likely to be held soon.

According to the final voters list, there are 79,19,563 voters (41,14,383 men, 38,03,747 women and 1,433 others). There are 243 wards in the urban body.

With the final voters list out, the Palike has hinted that it is ready to conduct the much awaited BBMP elections. The previous council's term ended on September 10, 2020, and at present there is no elected body.

The administration is being carried out by officials under the Administrator Rakesh Singh of the Urban Development Department.

BBMP has appealed to the public to log on to its website bbmp.gov.in to check details of themselves and their family members in the revised voters list.

Reservation: HC adjourns hearing

ENS @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court adjourned the hearing of a batch of petitions challenging the notification issued by the State Government providing reservation for 243 wards of Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) to Friday.

Justice Hemant Chandangoudar adjourned the hearing after heard the arguments of state government and State Election Commission for sometime.

Site owners at Ganigarahalli object to BDA move to acquire their land for Karanth Layout

Site owners at Ganigarahalli protesting in front of the BDA head office

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

IT was quite a shock for over 200 site owners of Ganigarahalli in Yesvantpur hobli a couple of days ago when they got to hear that their properties were to be acquired by the Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) for the formation of Dr Shivaram Karanth Layout. With their lands left out of the final notification in 2008 which said 3,546 acres was required for the layout formation, they thought their lands were safe and many built houses on them.

To register their objection and establish their ownership over the sites in Survey No. 72, nearly 50 landowners, who bought these revenue sites of various dimensions, gathered at the BDA head office on Wednesday. They submitted many copies to prove their ownership too.

"The land (exact dimensions are unknown) was originally allotted by the government in 1973 to individuals falling under the SC/ST category. However, all the land was clubbed together and purchased by a family in the name of NC Munirathna. They later sold 30 guntas to each of us. The absolute sale deed is registered in our name but the katha is still in the name of the original allottees," S Chandrashekar, a site owner, told The New Indian Express.

The notice announcing the acquisition was sent to the those allotted five decades ago. "We do not want BDA to acquire our land for the layout. But if there is no other option, we demand alternative site inside Dr Karanth Layout after it is developed," he said. With the katha document not in their names there is apprehension over what would happen at the time of compensation when the land is taken, Chandrashekher added.

Site allottee R Mahalakshmi said that they had built their house there and were residing for many years. "How can they suddenly issue a notice saying our property was needed. We had no clue about it and are really upset." Her view was echoed by a few others around.

Deputy Commissioner, Land Acquisitions, BDA, Dr A Soujanya, said some pockets of land were left out in the notification issued 14 years ago and BDA requires them now. "I will look into the issue and try to sort it out. But one needs to bear in mind that revenue lands are an illegal acquisition," she said.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

29TH September: I expect you've read about the possibility that we're about to discover a whole lot more planets just like ours. But, if we do, don't expect to take your holidays there. If you set off in one of our current space craft, you'd be long gone before reaching your destination, so your grandchildren would be more likely to have the fun.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Mars' intriguing relationship with Neptune is pretty near perfect as far as all work and professional ambitions are concerned, but only if you are able to recognise the difference between the way the world is on the one hand, and the way you'd like it to be on the other.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Like most people, you are blessed with a planetary alignment which confers inspiration and imagination. What is more impressive in your chart is the manner in which your creative powers and spiritual aspirations are triggered. You should always try to see the best in people.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Continued close attention to a financial matter is desirable, although not essential. When other people abandon their responsibilities, you will be the one who knows where to turn, for you have an amazing wealth of experience to draw on from the past.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Your daily planets reveal this to be a special day if you have proposals to put forward and arguments to win. However, the long-term perspective evokes deep memories and could cause you to reflect on all those things which happened so long ago. Hopefully certain recollections are no longer as painful as they were.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Secrecy is not one of your better-known characteristics, but today you really have to keep something to yourself. Don't worry about deceiving partners as long as there is no self-interest involved. It may be, for example, that you keep something from them for their own good.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
If you are beginning to feel as if you're walking up the down escalator, then you're probably pretty much in tune with the stars. The secret is to change direction now, before you end up in the wrong place! You won't lose the thread completely, even if other people think you have.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Carry on with all-important professional moves, regardless of associates' potentially time-wasting or disruptive actions. If you give charitable activities a high priority you will do what the mystical philosophers call 'making merit', with many good results in the future.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Pluto has played a profound role in your chart for many years, so emotional intensity is nothing new. On the other hand, occasionally a new pitch of excitement is reached and, right now, under the Moon's powerful sway, you may demand a new level of commitment.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Your material and business interests may have to come first, no matter how much you have to spend or invest. If you have any uncertainties at work, or in any major public ambition, you may put important developments on hold until the picture is clearer.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Sober Saturn and jovial Jupiter are once again being activated, reminding everyone that you are much more than the materialistic stereotype of an astrological cliché. Don't be afraid to speak your mind, or break out of the rut in which you have buried yourself!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Spare a little time for your physical well-being, and use the opportunity provided by today's lunar position to clean up your diet and check out a new fitness regime. Don't be perturbed by a financial delay, but keep an eye on other people, just to make sure that they're doing what they said they'd do.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
The Sun is sailing along in a sensitive region of your solar chart, which is astrological shorthand for saying that although colleagues may seem to be quite happy, someone, somewhere, is about to hit the roof. Keep your psychic antennae buzzing and try to spot problems before they arise.

Should Murugha Mutt seer sign one salary cheque or many: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Wednesday directed Murugha Math pontiff Shivamurthy Murugha Sharanaru, arrested under Pocso Act, to file a statement explaining what he was doing to disburse salaries to employees before his arrest and whether he needs to sign only a single cheque or multiple cheques now.

Justice M Nagaprasanna passed the order after hearing a petition by the swamiji seeking directions to the jail authorities to allow him to sign cheques and other related documents to disburse salaries and for other day-to-day expenses for the management of the Mutt and Sri Jagadguru Murugharajendra Vidya Peeta.

The seer's counsel argued that the petitioner should be allowed to sign the cheque for the disbursement of salaries of over 3,500 employees. There is no provision in the Trust bylaw to give powers to others to sign and also no powers to appoint Power of Attorney. Pontiff is the sole signatory and employees have been without salary for over two-and-a-half months, he argued.

The state public prosecutor drew the attention of the court to the pontiff's plea being rejected by the sessions judge, and said that was the reason he moved the high court.

The court orally asked what is the solution for disbursing salary, as one's problem should not result in difficulty to others and nobody should starve. "File a memo mentioning what pontiff intended to do and also indicate how the salary was being disbursed before his arrest. Also, disclose whether signature to one cheque is enough or for multiple cheques, since it was stated that 200 cheques were being operated per month," the judge added. He asked the counsel for the accused to serve a copy of the memo to the state public prosecutor so that the matter will be heard on Thursday.

FIREMAN HELD FOR EXTORTING CASH FROM SPAS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A 33-year-old fireman working with the Department of Fire and Emergency Services in Athani, Belagavi district, was arrested by Bengaluru police for extorting money from two spa and salon centres in North East division, under the guise of a policeman attached to Central Crime Branch (CCB).

TR Anand, a resident of Peenya, claimed to be the personal assistant of ACP Reena Suvarna. He had allegedly taken Rs 20,000 each from the two places as 'monthly mamool', and warned that if they failed, the CCB would raid them and book false cases, accusing them of running a prostitution racket. He had left the spas, saying they would have to give him the same amount on a monthly basis, and it was being done at the behest of the ACP. He also left his contact details with them. One of the spa owners filed a complaint with Kodigehalli police.

On the afternoon of August 10, the fireman had met the manager of a spa located on Kodigehalli Main Road in Sahakarnagar, and claimed to be the personal assistant of the ACP. He demanded Rs 25,000 from the manager, and collected Rs 20,000 and left. However, the spa owner filed a complaint almost a month later, on September 19, at Kodigehalli police station. The accused had also extorted money from a spa in Vidyaranyapura. When he contacted the spa the second time, demanding money, the manager filed a complaint.

"The fireman is a habitual offender. He is also alleged to have been involved in similar crimes, and was kept under suspension. He was earlier working at Peenya fire station and was posted to Athani recently. Four months ago, he had approached a hospital and demanded money. CCTV footage showed him in the hospital," said an officer who is part of investigations.

India may beat US in cardiac deaths by 2030

NAMRATA SINDWANI @Bengaluru

A Lancet study has projected that 75% of the deaths in India will be caused by non-communicable diseases, and deaths due to cardiac issues will be more than those in the US, China or Russia by 2030.

Reflecting on the study, health experts have cautioned stringent measures to be taken to avoid such a situation. Dr CS Hiremath, secretary, Indian Association of Cardiovascular Thoracic Surgeons (IACTS), said India will be leading in major heart diseases in the coming years, and attributed it to the sedentary lifestyles of the people.

He blamed increasing consumption of junk food, binge-eating under stress, hypertension, smoking, lack of exercise, and resulting obesity for the rising number of cardiovascular problems among Indians.

On the flip-side, he especially warned the youth against indulging in rigorous gym exercises and consuming muscle-building supplements without proper medical guidance. He also suggested that people above the age of 40 go for regular health checkups.

Dr Karan Karekar, cardiologist, KC General Hospital, said heart issues are the leading cause of death in India followed by cancer. He explained that in recent years the number of younger people (aged between 20 and 40) facing heart issues has increased proportionately, and also attributed it to stress, dietary habits, poor mental health, obesity. He singled out stress as the major factor, which was often ignored. He pointed out that in all Indian metropolitan cities, cases were found to be higher due to the proportionately larger migrant population with stress becoming a leading factor in the increased number of heart diseases.

Mental health aspects also increased with work-from-home emerging as the dominant work mode, resulting in increased work hours accompanied by increased work pressures and stress, Dr Karekar explained.

Celebs could have avoided heart attacks: Devi Shetty

SHILPA P @Bengaluru

AHEAD of World Heart Day on Thursday, founder and chairman of Narayana Health Dr Devi Prasad Shetty said actors, celebrities with six packs, and fit people suddenly dropping dead after a heart attack, could have been saved. Their heart condition could have been anticipated 10 years earlier, if they had got a CT Angio or CT scan of the heart done, which could have picked up even 5 per cent blockage in their arteries in the early stage, he said.

He called on those completing 40 years of age to get tested once in 10 years, and said it would detect even minor coronary heart disease and prevent heart attacks, Dr Shetty said.

Dr Gundurao Harish Joshi, consultant, adult cardiology, Narayana Multispeciality Hospital, HSR Layout, said, "We are noticing a 25-30 per cent rise in heart attacks in patients less than 55 years of age, to pre-Covid days. Over 70 per cent of the total patients being admitted belong to the 35-45 age group, followed by 45-55 years.

Besides poor lifestyle and diet, increase in stress and negligent conditions like sugar and BP, this spike can be attributed to Covid to an extent, he said.

"Owing to better treatment modality being available, around 95 per cent of those admitted within the golden hour (1 hour) can be saved, however, at present, the onset is far most effective. Engaging in a physical activity of one's choice, eating a balanced diet, ensuring sufficient rest to the body as well as mind, restricting the usage of alcohol and abstaining from smoking are some of the ways one can maintain a healthy heart," Dr Joshi said.

● Will not oppose govt action against organisations disrupting peace, says Opposition ● Centre cites 4 murders each in K'taka, Kerala to ban organisation

ALL STATES, PARTIES WANTED PFI BANNED, SAYS BOMMAI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE ruling BJP unanimously welcomed the decision to ban the Popular Front of India across the country, while opposition parties were more circumspect, saying, "All those whipping up communal hate should be banned."

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said there is no place for disruptive activities in the country when Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah are at the helm. "Most of the important leaders of PFI were trained across the border and were operating from there. PFI was involved in many disruptive activities for many years and their actions across states have been proved. All the states and leaders from Congress, CPI and CPI(M) had requested the Centre to ban the anti-national organisation. No one should be in touch with banned or associated organisations," he warned.

Opposition leader Siddaramaiah said, "If the government takes action against any organisation that acts against the law and disturbs peace in society, we will not oppose it. Similar action should also be taken against RSS and other organisations. The government should ban any organisation that disturbs peace and harmony and indulges in politics of hate."

JDS senior leader HD Kumaraswamy said, "I urge the government to place all documents against PFI before the people on how it is encouraging riots. Strict action should be taken if any organisation indulges in anti-social activities. Facts related to NIA raids should be placed before the people. It cannot be said that complete peace will prevail as soon as PFI is banned. The government should take everyone into confidence and promote harmony."

Congress and Dalit leader Dr HC Mahadevappa said, "Banning PFI is a welcome move. Any organisation, like the RSS, SDPI, Bajrang Dal and Hindu Parishad, that creates communal hatred should be banned."

Home Minister Araga Jnanendra and BJP state president Nalin Kateel took to social media to welcome the ban.

BJP National General Secretary CT Ravi said, "Now it is the turn of society to ban them. I welcome the ban on PFI and its affiliates for supporting ISIS-type terrorists, civil war and sedition within the country. We should be careful and not form subversive and divisive organisations within society. No political party should indulge in politics around the ban for appeasement and immediate political gains. Then the task of freeing society from the hands of these evil forces will be hampered."

He told the parties, "Politically, you have benefited as far as the future of the country is concerned. Patriotic Muslims should think and create awareness against anti-nationalism and bigotry to protect the security of the country and dignity of society. After the ban, there is a possibility of evil elements belonging to PFI operating underground, inciting society and participating in anti-national activities. If any such incidents come to their notice, I appeal to them to immediately inform the police and join hands with law enforcement agencies to avoid any further problems."

Power and Kannada Culture Minister V Sunil Kumar said that those who funded and supported PFI will be investigated in the coming days. "The ban on PFI is welcome. I congratulate Modi and Shah for taking a tough decision," he added.

MHA cites max number of related murders from K'taka, Kerala for ban

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

THE Central government has banned the PFI under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA), 1967 for five years for alleged terrorist activities and links with other banned terrorist organisations like the Students Islamic Movement of India (SIMI), Jamaat-ul-Mujahideen-Bangladesh (JMB) and Islamic State of Iraq & Syria (ISIS). The other organisations banned under UAPA include Rehab India Foundation (RIF), Campus Front of India (CF), All India Imams Council (AIIC), National Confederation of Human Rights Organisation (NCHRO), National Women's Front and Junior Front.

The gazette notification issued by the Ministry of Home Affairs dated September 28 mentioned the number of murder cases (of Right wing members) perpetrated by the PFI was maximum (four each) from Kerala and Karnataka. "The state governments of Uttar Pradesh, Karnataka and Gujarat have recommended to ban the PFI," stated the gazette notification.

In Karnataka, RSS cadre Rudresh was murdered in broad daylight in October 2016 on Kamaraj Road in Commercial Street police limits in Bengaluru when he was returning from 'Patha Sanchalan' -- an RSS function. The case was initially investigated by the city police, in which they arrested five accused – Irfan Pasha (A-1), Waseem Ahmed alias Wasim (A-2), Mohammad Sadiq alias Mohammad Mazar alias Mazar (A-3), Mohammed Mujeeb Ulla alias Mujeeb alias Maula (A-4) and Asim Sheriff (A-5) under Sections 302 (murder) r/w 34 (common intention), 120-B (criminal conspiracy) of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) and Sections 16 1(a), 18, 20 of the UAPA. The case was handed over to NIA, which charge sheeted the accused and stated that the five accused were members of the PFI and its affiliated political organisation - the SDPI. The chargesheet stated that the accused had targeted Rudresh "to strike terror among a section of people. The killing was a clear act of terrorism with the intention of instilling fear in the minds of people and was a step towards establishing the Islamic Caliphate in India by eliminating the kafirs".

The second murder case from Karnataka, mentioned by MHA, is of RSS activist and autorickshaw driver Praveen Pujari in August 2016 in Kodagu district. The police had arrested then PFI district secretary TA Haris, PFI workers MH Tufail, Nayaz, Mohammed Mustafa, Mujeeb Rehman and Irfan Ahmed among others. The third murder case is of RSS activist Sharath Madiwala on July 7, 2017 in Mangaluru. The police arrested 17 accused including the main accused Mohammed Sharief, who was a PFI member. The fourth and the most recent murder case in Karnataka, in which PFI is allegedly involved, is that of Praveen Nettaru on July 26, 2022 in Dakshina Kannada district. The case was investigated by the state police. They had arrested 10 accused before handing over the case to NIA, which had nailed the PFI for planning the murder as "part of a larger conspiracy to strike terror amongst the members of a section of society".

Action on those protesting against ban on PFI, warns DG&IGP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

DIRECTOR General & Inspector General of Police Praveen Sood on Wednesday warned that strict action will be initiated against those who protest against the ban imposed on the Popular Front of India (PFI).

He said here on Wednesday that no protests can be allowed against the decision of the Union government.

"If any person or organisation stages any protest against the ban, they will be deemed to be part of the banned organisation and action will be initiated against them under appropriate laws," the DG&IGP warned.

Sood said the Centre issued a notification and delegated states the steps that they need to take following the ban. "District magistrates and police commissioners will implement the orders, as per the notification," he added.

He said NIA had arrested seven people and the state police 15 suspects on September 22, and they have been taken into police custody for 11 days. "Based on the questioning of the arrested people and the materials seized, another round of search operations was carried out on Tuesday, during which the state police have taken 101 into preventive custody. They will be released once they furnish a bail bond of good behaviour," Sood said.

Meanwhile, the Bengaluru city police have made elaborate security arrangements in sensitive areas across the city and deployed additional forces.

Cong must apologise to people for 'PayCM': Arun

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru/Kalaburagi

BJP National General Secretary in charge of Karnataka Arun Singh on Wednesday claimed that the Congress is imploding, even as former AICC president Rahul Gandhi is taking out the 'Bharat Jodo Yatra'.

"Everyone knows what happened to Congress in Punjab, Goa and now in Rajasthan. Ashok Gehlot and Sachin Pilot are fighting in Rajasthan. The party will face a similar situation in Karnataka because of the tussle between Siddaramaiah and DK Shivakumar," the BJP leader said in Bengaluru.

Singh slammed Congress for its 'PayCM' campaign and asked its leaders to apologise to the people of Karnataka. Dismissing the Congress' demand for a judicial probe into the '40 per cent commission' allegation made by the contractors' association, he said Congress is making baseless allegations against the government as they do not have any other issue to discuss.

"Congress is a leaderless party without any vision and that is why it is wiped out of the country. In Karnataka too, it will be erased after the 2023 Assembly polls and BJP will return to power," he said.

BJP slams Cong's scams

"The 'PayCM' campaign and pasting posters of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai is an insult to the common man of the state and Congress leaders should apologise," he added.

Later in Kalaburgi, he said Congress has no moral right to speak about corruption as a number of scams, including irregularities in foodgrain distribution and teacher recruitments, have taken place when Siddaramaiah was the chief minister.

On dissenting voices within BJP, he said there might be differences of opinion but no dissent in the party. BJP will improve its position in the Kalyana-Karnataka region in the Assembly elections, he asserted.

Bharat Jodo Yatra to reach state today

MYSURU: Extending their support to the Bharat Jodo Yatra embarked upon by Congress MP Rahul Gandhi, who will be reaching Gundlupete in Karnataka on Thursday, various progressive thinkers, theatre-persons, social activists, and Dalit leaders have expressed their support, stating that more than viewing it as a political campaign, the yatra is "the need of the hour when the society is divided over various issues".

DR G, HARIPRASAD CONVINCE MUNIYAPPA TO JOIN RAHUL'S YATRA

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

A DELEGATION led by Congress leaders Dr G Parameshwara and BK Hariprasad called on former Union minister K H Muniyappa, who it is said was planning to quit the party. They reportedly convinced Muniyappa, seven-time Kolar LS member, to take an active part in former AICC president Rahul Gandhi's 'Bharat Jodo Yatra'. "He is a CWC member, and quitting the party is a rumour. He was not active in mainstream politics for some time, but the gloomy days are now over," said Parameshwara.

Muniyappa claimed that Congress leaders met him to discuss the confusion over Rajasthan CM Ashok Gehlot's nomination to the AICC president's post. "We are disciplined soldiers of the party, who follow instructions of the high command and Sonia Gandhi," he said. The trigger for the meeting was Muniyappa calling on CM Basavaraj Bommai through Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar, which gave rise to speculation of him joining BJP. "Bommai also spoke to Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in favour of Muniyappa," a source said, but did not divulge whether he was in touch with the BJP.

JDS is also trying to snare Muniyappa, who is from the SC (Left) and can help the party, especially in Kolar and Chikkaballapur. A section of Muslims is in favour of JDS, and a recent community convention held at Kolar was a crowdpuller.

Shobha may add Gowda to her name

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

SOME change their name, while some others add alphabets to their names for numerology, astrology and other reasons. The latest personality who might join the rush is Union Minister of State for Agriculture Shobha Karandlaje. She is likely to add the name of her late father Monappa Gowda, replacing the surname Karandlaje that is associated with her for long, sources close to her said.

They said Shobha has been advised by leaders from New Delhi to change her name to woo Vokkaliga voters ahead of the 2023 Assembly elections.

The name change could bring in bigger tidings for her, as there is an indication that she could be made the party state president, replacing Nalinkumar Kateel. The 55-year-old leader has served as an MLC, MLA, state minister, MP and now as Union minister in Prime Minister Narendra Modi's ministry.

Shobha is said to have approached an astrologer to get her name right as per numerology. "She will file an affidavit soon to change her name," the sources confirmed. But Shobha refused to reveal any information when contacted. Filing an affidavit is a legal requirement to change one's name.

The name change is part of the party's strategy to make inroads into the Vokkaliga-majority Old Mysuru region that is dominated by leaders from the community -- KPCC president DK Shivakumar from Kanakapura, JDS patriarch HD Deve Gowda and his son HD Kumaraswamy.

Kateel's term as party state president ended in August and he is on extension now. Apart from Shobha, the other names doing the rounds to replace him are party National General Secretary CT Ravi, Minister Sunil Kumar and former minister Aravind Limbvali. Of them, Ravi and Shobha are Vokkaligas.

The buzz within the ruling BJP, which seems to be on the backfoot after repeated attacks from opposition Congress in recent weeks, is that Shobha, if appointed to the top post, could reel in women and Vokkaliga voters.

'Don't rely only on Unesco sites'

URGING the department to be aggressive in its approach, Bommai said the department should no longer depend only on United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation (UNESCO)-declared sites to draw tourists.

Karnataka has many archaeological sites which have larger potential, and all that is required is to popularise them, improve facilities and market aggressively. Experts should be roped in to explain the sites' history, he said.

The CM also set a target for the Tourism Department to increase tourism footfall from 30 lakh to one crore in three years. He asserted that all departments including revenue, PWD, roads and infrastructure, should work with the Tourism Department.

Bommai said ropeway projects are being taken up under PPP in Anjanadri Hills, Nandi Hills, Yaana and Chikkmagaluru. He said Rs 100 crore was allocated for improving facilities at Anjanadri Hills and for constructing a 600-room dormitory.

The CM also agreed to a proposal made by Tourism Minister Anand Singh to increase the incentive given to 365 registered guides from Rs 2,000 to Rs 5,000 a month. Bommai announced that guides will be given training, uniform, badges and language skill improvement classes.

Singh said a proposal was submitted to the Central government to develop five tourist spots in Karnataka under Swadesh Darshan 2.0 at a cost of Rs 500 crore.

Ropeway projects in 15 spots were also proposed under the Central government's Parvata Mala Yojana. Singh said post-pandemic, tourists who are reluctant to stay in hotels, can make use of caravan tourism, which is being promoted under Public-Private Partnership.

Raid done to disrupt Yatra, says Siddu

KPCC president DK Shivakumar added, "I had sought time from CBI and explained that I am busy with elections and other party programmes. I had written a letter to officers here as well as in Delhi. I do not know why they are doing it at this time. They seem to be in a great hurry. It is mentally tormenting for me. I am from a village. I cannot magically create property papers. Whatever I possess, I have earned over the years, details of which I have already given to the Election Commission, ED and I-T department". Reacting to the raids, senior Congress leader and former CM Siddaramaiah said, "This is done to disrupt the Bharat Jodo Yatra. It is politically motivated."

Janata Dal (S) leader and former CM H D Kumaraswamy said, "There is so much corruption in the state government and still there is no action being taken. All measures are directed against only those who are in the Opposition."

Congress chief whip in the Rajya Sabha and party general secretary, in-charge of Karnataka, Dr Syed Nasir Hussain told TNIE, "Modi government has brought in ED, IT, CBI, and election departments of the BJP to target Shivakumar. This is a knee-jerk reaction to the overwhelming public support the Congress is receiving for its Bharat Jodo Yatra.

It may be recalled that Congress leaders had protested when Shivakumar was summoned by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) about a fortnight ago.

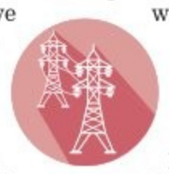
Relief for T'gana as HC stays Centre's order on power dues

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

THE Telangana High Court on Wednesday termed the Union Government's order asking the Telangana power utilities to pay Andhra Pradesh for electricity supplied in the past was prima facie illegal as it had not heard TS power utilities before issuing the said order. The court also directed the Centre not to take any coercive action against Telangana power utilities.



A bench comprising Justice P Naveen Rao and Justice J Sreenivas Rao heard a writ petitioned filed by Special Chief Secretary to Telangana government Sunil Sharma, expressing his dissatisfaction with the action of the Secretary to the Ministry of Energy, in issuing the order dated August 29, 2022, under Section 92 of the Andhra Pradesh Reorganisation Act, 2014. In its order, the Centre directed the Telangana government to pay the due amount of Rs 3,441.78 crore towards the principal amount and Rs 3,315.14 crore towards the late payment surcharge to the AP government within a time frame of 30 days.

Dushyant Dave, senior counsel representing Telangana power utilities, informed the court that the concerns emerging from the AP Reorganisation Act should have been examined and debated before the apex body, the Southern Regional Council, which was not done. The AP government has benefited from the Centre's contested decree since the AP government assisted the Centre in electing the president and vice-president, he said.

"AP and TS are two children born of bifurcation, and the Central government should not have demonstrated such a biased attitude against the Telangana government," he said.

CV Mohan Reddy, senior counsel appearing for the AP Power Discoms, expressed regret over the non-payment of RS 7,000 crore as the nonpayment has pushed the AP Power Discoms into into dire straits.

Surya Karan Reddy, Additional Solicitor General for the Central government, briefed the court that the AP Power Discoms supplied power to Telangana due to the Centre's intervention. As a result, the Central government has the authority to issue such an order.

Cops suspect larger network of conversion in Karnataka

AMIT S UPADHYE @ Hubballi

THE investigation into the alleged forceful conversion of a 26-year-old youth to Islam a few months ago is bringing out new insights into the links between various groups allegedly involved in religious conversions in Karnataka, said police sources.

The police in Hubballi have been questioning a few people and on Wednesday visited some houses in Kasabapet area. A special team has been formed under an ACP-level officer and it is touring different parts of the state to gather information.

In all, 12 people have been listed in the FIR lodged at the APMC-Navanagar police station in Hubballi. The police said the victim, Shreedhar Gangadhar, an employee of a private firm, was cheated and forcefully converted to Islam. For many weeks, he was threatened of dire consequences if he went to the police or informed anybody of his ordeal. Shreedhar was held up at a house in Bengaluru where he was forcibly circumcised and made to eat beef. "Most of the accused live in Bengaluru. The victim has given enough information, telephone numbers and addresses of the accused and their associates," said the police.

"We had information about conversion material and of some people from Hubballi. One of the main accused is from Hubballi. After a tipoff, we searched some homes in Kasabapet. It is a routine investigation procedure and so far no arrests have been made," the officer added.

The police are also checking the sources of funding and bank accounts from which the victim received money. One of the accused had given the victim Rs 35,000 and the gang had promised Rs 40,000 for each person converted. "The victim was given a target of three people annually for conversion. The victim was blackmailed with a picture of him holding firearms," the police said.

BJP POLICIES HARM INDIANS, SAYS RAHUL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Malappuram

THE policies of the BJP are designed to harm the average Indian, and Bharat Jodo Yatra is to fight these policies, Rahul Gandhi has said. He was speaking at a public meeting held in Nilambur as part of the yatra on Wednesday. He said the provisions of farm laws, demonetisation, and GST benefit only a limited number of people and harm a vast majority of Indian citizens.

"The BJP acquired power by dividing the people of the country. You can see the results of them coming to power. India faces the highest level of unemployment. Prices are skyrocketing.

We have the most unequal society in the world. The second richest person in the world is from India and millions of other people in the country are poor. All these are the results of the BJP's policies. Bharat Jodo Yatra will unite the people of the country and fight the policies of the BJP," he said.

JAISHANKAR's DOGFIGHT WITH THE U.S. ON PAK's F16 FLEET UPGRADE

When a scholarly, soft-spoken retired diplomat resorts to hard talk, it makes you sit up and take notice. For the past few months, foreign minister S Jaishankar has been delivering punchlines in a matter-of-fact tone, taking a tilt at aggressive rivals and pesky allies with candour. The latest is his ripping of America's $450 million security assistance camouflage of fighting terror for Pakistan's F16 fleet, saying the aid fools nobody. It's common knowledge that the F16s have nothing to do with combating terror. During India's 2019 Balakot strike on a terror target deep within the line of control, Pakistan had scrambled F16s, among others. It lost one of them in a missile lock from Wing Commander Abhinandan Varthaman's MiG 21 Bison. The Biden administration reviving its defence cooperation with Pakistan years after the Trump regime froze it is a thinly disguised affront to India's neutrality in the Russian invasion of Ukraine.

That Jaishankar's blunt talk came days before he held one-on-one meetings with US Secretary of State Antony Blinken and Defense Secretary Lloyd Austin showed the bilateral relationship has matured to accommodate such asides. On Tuesday, he fobbed off a question on India's democracy, saying the country does not believe other nations should decide its quality. He had in the past hit back at the annual US report on global human rights violations, showing it the mirror instead on its domestic rights record. That level of comfort with the US is decidedly missing in India's ties with China. For example, New Delhi took a long time to issue a nuanced statement on Taiwan in the context of Pelosi's rabble-rousing visit, advising restraint and avoiding unilateral action to change the status quo while taking an ambiguous position on the prickly One-China policy. Earlier, Europe's gyaan on sanctions against Russia when it had a built-in workaround for energy dependence got in Jaishankar's hair, drawing a sharp riposte a few months ago. In remarks dripping with sarcasm, he observed that Europe had to grow out of the mindset that its problems are the world's problems.

The diplomat-turned-neta seems to be in his element as he pushes back on non-alignment and India's supreme national interest as also the problems of the Global South. It reflects Prime Minister Modi's trust in him to nurture the country's growing stature abroad, despite detractors within his party.

BEWARE, COVID-19 IS STILL LURKING AROUND

When two dozen Omicron variants, though not as destructive as Delta, continue to prey on millions of people across the globe, rendering them fatigued and temporarily unfit for employment, it's irrational to write off the pandemic. No wonder the assertion by US President Joe Biden that the Covid-19 pandemic in the US is over has sparked a debate. The statement may have brought smiles to several unmasked faces in the US and elsewhere who cite the abolition of Covid-19 protocols and restrictions and rebound of travel to pre-pandemic levels as clear testimonies. Interestingly, Biden's off the cuff comment came just a few weeks after his administration sought to spend over $1.6 billion to support Covid-19 testing and vaccination programmes to help vulnerable communities. It plainly illustrates how recklessly an advanced country that accounted for over a million dead in the past two years treats the pandemic.

Developing countries are still struggling to come to terms with the ill effects of the pandemic, with only one-third of the healthcare workers and older populations fully vaccinated and boosted, according to the UN. Efforts are still on to reach vaccines to needy people while addressing the issues with vaccine hesitancy and other misinformation related to immunisation, which the UN Secretary-General recently termed the shadow pandemic. He has raised concerns over falling testing rates, exposing the world to potential variants and undermining the rollout of new treatments.

India has done a fabulous job in spreading the awareness and importance of vaccination and booster shots and quickly attempted to close the vaccination gap, especially among the high-risk categories. India's Covid-19 tally crossed the four-crore mark on January 25 this year. Since then, new daily cases have dropped steadily to around 5,000 a day, while the total recovery rate has reached 98.72%, according to the latest Health Ministry data. The steep decline in fresh cases has nudged us to drop our first line of defence against the virus: the mask. The reality is that Covid viruses are still lurking around, and we can't afford to ignore masks in crowded public places like malls, markets and theatres. There is a need to increase surveillance, testing and sequencing as suggested by WHO. We must invest in healthcare infrastructure, early warning systems, local manufacturing and diagnostic capabilities to prevent future threats.

QUICK TAKE

THE INDIAN NAVIGATOR

India wants cell phone makers to adapt their devices to NavIC, the indigenous navigation apparatus, to end reliance on foreign systems. It is similar to the American GPS we use today. Space agency ISRO developed NavIC for military and commercial use. It covers the Indian mainland but needs a global footprint. It also awaits customer validation. Phone manufacturers say integrating NavIC in their chip sets is a costly affair. The government must insist on compliance. After all, it is the cost of doing business in India. Didn't the smartphone makers adapt their systems in China, Russia, the US and Europe?

A republic is far closer to democratic traditions than a monarchy, where a queen or king from one dynasty is more privileged than the rest of the citizens

POLES APART: UK's MONARCHY AND INDIA'S DEMOCRACY

A SURYA PRAKASH

Former Chairman of Prasar Bharati and scholar of democracy studies

Over the years, Indians have become quite used to anchors in western media outlets like BBC and CNN talking down to them and deriding them for various reasons—often related to Hindu religious and social customs and rituals. But these channels rarely turn the spotlight on their societies or reflect on traditions that exist therein, which are completely out of tune with the modern world.

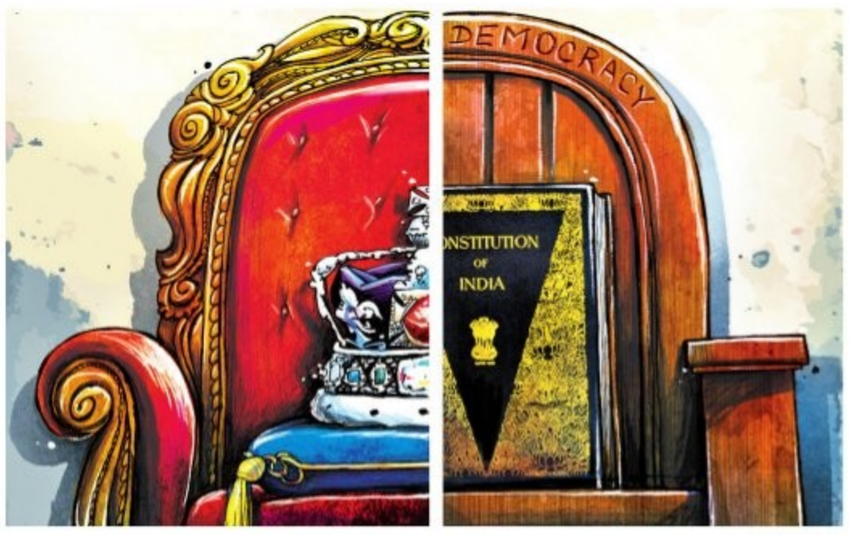
The issue at hand is the saturated coverage of the death of Queen Elizabeth II on these channels and the gushing, laudatory commentaries that went on 24X7 for ten days about the monarchy, the pomp and pageantry that surrounded the event, and the anointment of Prince Charles as king.

The colourful tunics, the regalia and the ceremonies surrounding the proclamation of Charles III as the King from St. James Palace and in all towns and habitations across his "kingdom" would surely seem anachronistic to Indians who, thanks to Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, bid goodbye to their kings and queens 75 years ago. It seemed odd to watch the proclamation being read out in various locations in this age of social media and the internet. But, who are we to complain if the British wish to live in the past?

The processes and rituals involving the transition extend to various things, including replacing the queen with the king on British currency, postage stamps, and even the national anthem. The Indian tradition is just the opposite. We bring out postage stamps to commemorate the life and work of leaders, usually after their death. The anthem has changed—"God Save the Queen" has been replaced with "God Save the King".

Indians who are groomed in the best traditions of democracy which guarantee liberty, equality and fraternity, and constitutional guarantees against discrimination of any sort (Article 15), would find it rather difficult to appreciate the top political leaders of the UK, including the present prime minister and several former prime ministers standing in the front row in St. James Palace and shouting "God Save the King!" following the official accession of Charles III as the new monarch. The Indian slogan on such momentous occasions is "Bharat Mata ki Jai" while the Americans would say "God Save America".

Generally, western media commentators look at India, the world's largest and most vibrant democracy, with a great deal of condescension. They often offer gratuitous advice to Indians on how to run their country. They delve into current political and social tensions in India and question the commitment of Indians to liberalism, secularism and democracy.



SOUMYADIP SINHA

But there is no appreciation of the fact that, unlike the UK and many European nations, India is a complete democracy with all these values and other elements like republicanism, equality before the law, and a clear separation of religion and the state. These values are strongly embedded in the Indian Constitution and constitute the very foundations of the Indian state. On the other hand, each of these elements—fundamental to democracy—is missing in the UK.

This needs some elaboration. The first point is that a republic (where the head of state is elected) is far closer to democratic traditions than a monarchy, where a queen or king from one dynasty is more privileged than the rest of the citizens. Our head of state—the president—is elected by MPs and legislators from all states. It is not a hereditary office; therefore, every Indian can aspire for it.

India has seen presidents from various social, economic, cultural and religious backgrounds. We have had presidents from different regions and religions–North, South, East, West, Hindu, Muslim, and Sikh. We have had presidents from various castes and communities from the diverse Hindu samaj, including Kayastha, Reddy, Dalit, and Brahmin. Our president is Droupadi Murmu, who hails from a tribal community. Therefore, this office is open to all and is not limited to any dynasty or religious order.

On the other hand, the British monarch is wedded to the Church of England, and he takes the oath, among other things, to "defend the faith". He also takes the oath to protect the security of the Church of Scotland (a Presbyterian national church). Also, few in India are aware that even within the Christian fold, adherents of the Roman Catholic Church are barred from ascending the throne in Britain. The monarch has to declare himself to be a protestant, owing allegiance to the Church of England and function as the "supreme governor" of that church, a tradition since the 16th century. Lastly, while the Indian Constitution imposes no restrictions on citizens vis-à-vis marriage, persons in line of succession to the British throne need the monarch's permission to marry. Those who violate this injunction will lose the right to ascend the throne. How democratic, secular and liberal is this?

India's decision to send President Droupadi Murmu to represent the country at the queen's funeral, therefore, made a telling point vis-à-vis the democratic and liberal traditions in the two nations.

The second issue is the separation of religion and the state. The Indian Constitution emphatically declares that "No religious instruction shall be provided in any educational institution wholly maintained out of State funds" (Article 28). Further, while the Indian president takes an oath to "preserve, protect and defend the Constitution", the British monarch takes an oath to "defend the faith".

The British monarch wears several hats. He is the king of the United Kingdom, the head of the 56-member Commonwealth, largely comprising former British colonies, and the head of state of 14 other nations in the Commonwealth, which accept him as their king.

Three generations of Indians born in the Republic of India, where the head of state is not a monarch but is elected to office by peoples' representatives, would surely wonder what all this fuss is about.

Therefore, as we continue to celebrate and enjoy the 75th year of our Independence, the sights and sounds that emanated from Britain this September must be a cause for quiet reflection among every Indian about how deep and progressive India's democracy is.

There can now be little doubt that India is not just the biggest—but the most evolved democracy in the world.

WHAT IF TUCKER CARLSON IS RIGHT

JOSEPH ANTONY

Writer, editor, and investment banking professional from Mumbai

We Indians are either living in denial or just too happy to be here. The better undoubtedly is denial. Looking at our country, we at least should be on the first step to grief, with one more to go: anger. The reality, however, may be that too many Indians are happy. There is no impatience with brimming drains, poor workmanship or rampant littering.

A few days ago, Tucker Carlson, an American presenter for broadcast station Fox News, a racist usually, dealt us more home truth. After 75 years of Independence, Tucker asks, has India built anything as beautiful as the erstwhile Victoria Terminus in Bombay? The Happy Indians didn't even come to know because such news is transmitted in English. The ones in denial wrote the usual outraged rebuttal.

A familiar intuition would have struck those who heard the news as soon as it came out: you just knew Shashi Tharoor would be articulate about Empire's evils again, and so he was for about 10 minutes on prime-time NDTV. He is a surreal idea: a man whose voice is so posh most English wouldn't trust it. Tharoor now defends India's honour from colonial history ever since he won the Oxford Union debate, and some of us were very impressed. He speaks not so much for India as its wounded pride, feelings that commonly afflict the best of us, the emigrant Indians, who go abroad to places of such urban splendour they are hurt by what they are newly conscious of: that India is so crassly different, so full of misery.

Even Indians who lived all their lives in wealthy enclaves suffer when they meet the egalitarian gaze of the white man. In his eyes, you, your maid who lives in a slum, and the many Indians who defecate openly belong to the same people, separated only by a small play of chance: an idea seemingly facile but rudely true.

But this time, at least, we must curb the urge to sound smart like Shashi Tharoor. No matter what Tucker Carlson thinks of Empire, what he said about India's public buildings is right. Any Indian could have said what he said in private, and it would have been received kindly.

Very few public constructions in India have character. Footpaths are so thick a child might have to climb over them with her or his hands. Almost every bridge in Kerala looks the same, with the same black and white bannister assembled from cement logs because the state tender seeking the builder comes with the same simple aim every time: build something that works as cheap as possible. Yet, in so many instances, the final bridge is neither cheap nor functional.

There are small mercies, though. If how the railway station looked was any indication of India's professionalism, would anyone get on a train? Isn't it marvellous how our trains run without being murderously dangerous? But it seems here, too, India's colonists have a claim.

The fact is our cities are so irredeemably warped even light tinkering would cause great suffering.

PTI

> The fact is the best of India is in its past, some of which our erstwhile colonisers built. But even this cherished past is not safe from the wildering chaos in the country. Some of that precious heritage lies in utter disregard

Early in its modern life, India did dally with beautiful architecture. And so now, Mumbai has the highest number of Art Deco buildings after Miami, and in Chandigarh, on invitation from Jawaharlal Nehru, Le Corbusier built the Palace of Assembly with a coiffed roof like Elvis Presley's hair, and Charles Correa built airy, brutal-looking train stations in Navi Mumbai. All of these structural movements are dead as the infatuations they were at the time, and they are closer to India's long past than its future.

Some of them, like Corbusier's, were utterly discordant with their surroundings. V S Naipaul called it 'megalomaniac architecture'. For Naipaul, Corbusier's buildings were as alien as the Gothic Victoria Terminus in Bombay: "India had encouraged yet another outsider to build a monument to himself," he said. The massive new triangular parliament India is constructing now at great cost is nothing much new either. It, too, will be a mix of red and cream sandstone like the old circular parliament.

The fact is the best of India is in its past, some of which our erstwhile colonisers built. There are so many wonders you can eloquently quote like Shashi Tharoor: the Iron Pillar in Qutub Minar that doesn't rust, the monolithic bull of Hampi, the intricate marble carvings of Dilwara, the Taj Mahal that has a wooden foundation, and so on. But even this cherished past is not safe from the wildering chaos in India. Some of that precious heritage lies in utter disregard.

Since India's sense of creed is still forming, for many, the country is still more myth than reality. And so, to a cowherd, the ruins of a Buddhist stupa in the Aravallis hold no particular sentiment but are a convenient spot to dry dung.

For India to truly reignite its passion for beautiful architecture, it must advance from denial to anger. Every Indian deserves so much more than she or he works for. We must have laws against littering and not flatter ourselves with awareness campaigns. We must build stations, parks, bus sheds and apartments more imaginatively. What if India had a national design body?

Every day, it seems India is passing up an opportunity to prove Tucker Carlson wrong. Decades since the Hindutva nationalists demolished Babri Masjid, part of our heritage, a new Ram temple is yet to be. Several lives were lost to this cause.

With the Hindu hardliners seated strongly in power and little scope for a churn in political power, the wrongs of the past may never be set right. But can the Hindutva nationalists at least build a good-looking temple? Can Shashi Tharoor persuade his nationalist friends?

Veteran actress awarded

Apropos of Phalke award for veteran actor Asha Parekh (Sept 28). Having done numerous films, Parekh is truly well deserving of this prestigious award. She is not just a successful actress but has also produced a few films. Her hits like Caravan and Kati Patang were not just famous in the north but were celebrated in Tamil Nadu as well!

Asha shines on

Asha Parekh is the seventh woman to be bestowed with the honour of the Dadasaheb Phalke Award. And rightly so! Through the years–with her fantastic acting skills–she has shined like a bright star in the Bollywood sky.

A gentleman's lesson

Apropos of Shun sledging, follow Rahane's example (Sept 28). Cricket is not just about batting, bowling and fielding—it is about respectful behaviour both on and off the field. That is why it is called the "gentlemen's game". It is good that Ajinkya Rahane put his younger teammate Yashasvi Jaiswal in place by calling him out for sledging South Zone player Ravi Teja. This is a lesson for Jaiswal.

Rajasthan rubik's cube

The open rebellion of party legislators in Rajasthan engineered by the CM has rattled the Congress high command. The CM does not want to move out of the state to assume the party president's post. And at the same time, he does not want Sachin Pilot to succeed him. If the high command is too hard on Gehlot, they may risk losing power in the state.

S Ravindranath, Bengaluru

Corporal punishment

Apropos of Corporal punishment: UP boy cremated amid stir (Sept 28). This is not an isolated incident. Although corporal punishment has been banned by the Supreme Court, it goes on in most schools in the country. Such unscrupulous teachers need to be found, and action must be taken against them. The power lies with the state governments to take up this issue and ensure the end of corporal punishments.

Dr M Haneef, Kottayam

PFI ban

Asaduddin Owaisi's knee-jerk reaction towards PFI being banned was expected. While he and the CPM in Kerala may not accept it, what they are refusing to acknowledge is that the arrests and ban have taken place only after solid proof of PFI's anti-national activities. The Centre must be lauded for taking the step.

Cabinet minister rules out Gehlot's resignation as CM

We will all continue to work under leadership of Gehlot: Khachariawas

RAJESH ASNANI @ New Delhi

As the political turmoil in Rajasthan got murkier and Chief-Minister Ashok Gehlot left for New Delhi to meet Congress president Sonia Gandhi, his senior colleague and cabinet minister Pratap Singh Khachariawas said that Gehlot won't resign. He said that the CM is the guardian of party legislators and convey the concern of around 102 MLAs to Congress top brass in Delhi.

Kahcariawas said that Rahul Gandhi himself always says that democracy doesn't exist in BJP, but there is democracy in the Congress and the voice of MLAs and party workers is heard. It is believed that Gehlot would have one-on-one meeting with Sonia Gandhi and will apprise her the political developments in Rajasthan. Meanwhile, Khachariawas denied speculations on Gehlot's resignation. "We will all continue to work under the leadership of Ashok Gehlot."

Ashok Gehlot's meeting with Sonia Gandhi was deferred by a day. The meeting was initially scheduled for Wednesday evening but he kept delaying his travel plans. Finally, he sent word that he would leave for Delhi after a meeting on law and order at his home on Wednesday evening and meet with the Congress president on Thursday. On the other hand, former Deputy CM Sachin Pilot is already in Delhi and according to the sources, he is also seeking time from Sonia.

On Wednesday, there was a lot of stir at the CM's residence as Gehlot held a meeting with state Congress president Govind Singh Dotasra, Parliamentary Affairs Minister Shanti Dhariwal, Government Chief Whip Mahesh Joshi and Pratap Singh Khachariyawas at his residence. Parliamentary Affairs Minister Shanti Dhariwal, Government Chief Whip Mahesh Joshi and RTDC Chairman Dharmendra Rathod are believed to have been discussed the show cause notices served to them. CM Gehlot also spoke to Assembly Speaker CP Joshi.

However, despite Congress leaders holding meetings to douse the crisis, some leaders continued to make attacking remarks on rival camps.

Health Minister Parsadi Lal Meena from the Gehlot faction again made a big attack on Sachin Pilot, saying that he would not accept Pilot as CM.

"He who played along with BJP and Amit Shah should not be made a CM. We won't accept him there is no one other than Ashok Gehlot for the post of CM," he added. Meena said that the immature planning of CLP meetings is responsible for present crisis. On Sunday, about 90 MLAs of the Gehlot faction boycotted the CLP meeting called by the high command, demanding that Sachin Pilot not be made the Chief Minister, and held a parallel meeting at the house of UDH Minister Shanti Dhariwal. Later Gehlot supporters submitted their resignations on Sunday by visiting Speaker Joshi's residence.

'Elector details' plague Cong prez poll

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

AS the crisis-ridden Congress is bracing for presidential elections, it is facing increasing questions on the transparency of the election process. The electoral roll for the AICC President election, which is available in AICC headquarters, doesn't show address, photo or details of the 9000-odd delegates, except for their names. The party has made the list of over 9000 delegates available for those seeking to file nomination for the AICC President post from September 20 at its Delhi office. The list of state delegates is available at the corresponding PCC office.

Requesting anonymity, a senior leader from Gujarat said that in his state, only names of delegates were available in the electoral rolls.

"How will the candidate contact delegates without address or phone number, photo or details of the delegate? In our list, only the names of the delegates are given. It's a farce," said the leader. So far, only Lok Sabha MP Shashi Tharoor has collected nomination papers, and he is expected to file the nomination by September 30.

Another leader from Tamil Nadu said that except names of the delegates, nothing was available in the electoral roll in the state. Many leaders from Assam, Kerala and other states also voiced the same concern.

"Without the photo of the delegate, how will even one identify that he/she is the real voter? Even if they appoint polling agents, it will be difficult to identify the real voter," said a leader. One MP from Maharashtra says that though the party claims that the election is being conducted in a fair manner, the dominance of the High Command is visible in each process. "Right from choosing the PCC delegate to state president to AICC member, it's decided from the top," he says.

Early this month, Chairman of the Congress Central Election Authority (CEA) Madhusudan Mistry assured the whole process of the election of the party president is open as the party has nothing to hide. As assured by Mistry, a QR code-based identity card was issued to all delegates across 29 states and nine Union territories.

The move came after five MPs including Shashi Tharoor and Karti Chidambaram wrote Mistry, seeking greater transparency in elections and the rolls be made public to ensure free and fair elections

Senior leader Manish Tewari has expressed concern that fair and free elections are not possible without a publicly available electoral roll.

"How can someone consider running if he/ she does not know who the electors are. If someone has to file his/her nomination and gets it proposed by 10 Congress persons as is a requirement, the CEA can reject it saying they are not valid electors," Tewari tweeted.

According to the Congress Constitution, any 10 delegates can propose the name of any other delegate for the post of Congress president. The returning officer for the election will send the list of nominated delegates to each state unit of the party, or PCC. The candidates will be given seven days to withdraw the nominations, if they wish.

In case of more than one candidate, the elections are held in the PCC headquarters of each state. The candidate with the highest number of votes will be declared the president of the Congress.

The filing of nominations for the post of the Congress President, which began on September 24 will conclude on September 30. Election will be held on October 17 and the result will be declared on October 19.

The Congress is holding the election for the party president after more than two decades. If a non-Gandhi is elected, it will be after around 25 years.

THE Central government's decision to ban on Popular Front Of India (PFI) for alleged terrorists activities has triggered sharp political reactions, with some Opposition parties slamming the government and seeking action against RSS while BJP leaders welcoming the ban.

Ban on PFI is not a solution to the larger issue of communal polarisation in the country, said CPI General Secretary D Raja.

"RSS was banned but continued with polarisation, violence and politics of hatred through the fringes. SIMI was also banned. The lesson we need to learn is to promote harmony, defeat polarisation and oppose terrorism of all shades," Raja added.

Congress and Indian Union Muslim League leaders from Kerala demanded a ban on RSS. RLD chief leader Lalu Prasad, too, echoed similar sentiment. "RSS should be banned as it propounds Hindu extremism," said Lalu. Senior Kerala Congress leader Ramesh Chennithala said, "RSS should also be banned. In Kerala, both majority and minority communalism should be equally opposed. Both PFI and RSS have incited communal hatred and created division in the society."

CPM general secretary Sitaram Yechury said that instead of banning organisations like the PFI, the better option was to isolate them politically and take firm administrative action against their criminal activities.

Responding to the allegations, RSS senior RSS leader J Nandakumar said that it was ridiculous to draw comparisons between RSS and PFI. "How can they even draw such comparisons? Both Congress and CPM are responsible for the growth of PFI. When RSS was banned, it was wrongly implicated in all the cases. The governments who imposed a ban on RSS had to withdraw it," said Nandakumar.

When asked why there is no ban on SDPI, the political front of PFI, he said, "How can a political party be banned? It's the Election Commission's mandate."

SC setback to Guj cop linked to Ishrat robe

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

GUJARAT IPS officer Satish Chandra Verma who assisted in Ishrat Jahan probe suffered a setback on Wednesday as the Supreme Court confirmed Delhi HC's order of refusing to stay his dismissal from service.

Noting that the order passed by the Delhi HC was interim, a bench of Justices KM Joseph and Hrishikesh Roy however advanced the hearing by asking the HC to consider Verma's plea challenging the dismissal order on November 22, 2022. The bench also asked the Delhi HC to preferably dispose of the same within three weeks.

"Having heard counsel for the petitioner, we are not inclined to interfere with the order of the high court refusing to extend the order of stay of disciplinary action against the petitioner. Accordingly, we direct that the WP 10539 of 2021 shall stand listed before the HC on 22nd November. Pleadings are to be completed by the parties well before 22/11/2022. To dispose of the matter as early as possible within a period of three months," the bench said in its order.

The HC while refusing to grant him the relief had posted his plea for January 24, 2023.

The bench during the hearing also noted that another person named Dr Maheshwar Dayal, IPS, IG, CoBRA Sector had been appointed in lieu of the vacancy created by Verma's dismissal. Assailing HC's order, counsel for Verma contended that the HC refused to extend his stay against dismissal after perusing the contents of the transcript of the interview given by the officer to a reporter of a news channel.

Antony appears at Delhi court in Tatra truck corruption case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

FORMER Defence Minister AK Antony on Wednesday appeared before Delhi's Rouse Avenue Court and was cross examined in connection with the CBI's case concerning the Tatra trucks corruption case.

As per the sources, deposing before the court during cross examination Antony said that he was shocked why General V K Singh didn't complain about the incident of him being offered a bribe unlike in other cases like Adarsh Scam where he used to write to the Defence Minister about such incidents. Antony, during the cross examination, also said that V K Singh did not show him any diary entry or audio recording pertaining to the said offer of bribe. As per the allegations in the CBI chargesheet it was in the month of August-September 2010, the file pertaining to procurement of 1,676 Tatra vehicles was pending before V K Singh, who is now a Minister of State for Road Transport & Highways and Civil Aviation.

Myanmar ultras helping captors of Indian techies

CHANDAN NANDY @ New Delhi

THE Karen National Liberation Army (KNLA), a heavily-armed Myanmar rebel group fighting the military junta in that country is suspected to be providing "protection" to an organised Malayasian-Chinese gang which continues to hold at least 150 Indian IT professionals trapped at a location on the Myanmar-Thailand border.

Sources in Indian security agencies revealed that Myanmar's Myawaddy district in Karen State, which is in the control of the KNLA and has seen frequent gun battles between armed cadres of the insurgent group and the Myanmar army in the recent past, has also been a centre of gun-running for some years. The KNLA and even the Arakan Army, another insurgent group, have traditionally "favoured" using Myawaddy as an important part of the route used by the outfits to bring in heavy weapons from China.

The software engineers, mostly from Tamil Nadu and Kerala, were entrapped in a job racket that four companies, primarily managed by some Dubai-based Chinese nationals suspected to have forced the Indians professionals to launch cyber fraud, including those related to crypto-currency and other related crimes. While 32 such Indians were rescued since the fraud came to light in July. Others are said to have paid hefty ransom money to free themselves. While the Ministry of External Affairs has been trying to use available resources in Myanmar and Thailand to help rescue the techies, the lack of precise on-the-ground information is delaying officials' efforts to secure the release of the software engineers still stuck in and around Myawaddy.

AAP minister issued notice over leaked tape, may be sacked

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

PUNJAB Food Processing and Horticulture Minister Fauja Singh Sarari faces losing his portfolio as the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) on Wednesday served him a show cause notice over a purported audio clip that went viral in which the minister and his officer on special duty (OSD) are heard discussing ways to extort money from food grain contractors.

If Sarari's reply is found unsatisfactory and the fact-finding team finds him guilty, he will become the second minister in the six-month-old AAP government to be sacked from the cabinet. Earlier Dr Vijay Singla was stripped of the health minister's portfolio barely two months after the AAP came to power in Punjab after the assembly polls in February.

Sarari joined the Bhagwant Mann cabinet about two months back. It has been learnt that the CMMann refused to give private audience to him. When the audio clip went viral, Mann was away in Germany. The course of action against Sarari will be decided after he is briefed about the internal inquiry into the issue.

Since the controversy broke out, Sarari has been saying that the clips were doctored by his OSD Tarsem Lal Kapoor to settle personal scores after he had refused to bail out his nephew in a case of misuse of the national flag.

The AAP may take stern action against him, since assembly elections are around the corner in Himachal Pradesh and Gujarat and the party rides on the platform of promising a corruption-free establishment.

In the audio clip, Sarari is heard talking about trapping some contractors involved in the transportation of food grains with the help of government officials when the trucks are half-loaded, in order to extort money from them. Tarsem had earlier met party leaders and apparently insisted on the genuineness of the clip. Sarari had also met AAP brass to present his side.

HC calls Didi's doorstep ration scheme illegal

A division bench of Justices Anirudhha Roy & Chitta Ranjan Das says it contradicts National Food Security Act

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

THE West Bengal government on Wednesday received a major setback as the Calcutta High Court termed its 'Duare Ration' (food grains at your doorstep) scheme as legally void. The initiative was promised by Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee before the 2021 Assembly elections, and implemented after the Trinamool Congress (TMC) came to power for the third straight term.

The order came after a petitioner moved the high court challenging the state government's initiative.

"The Duare Ration scheme is ultra vires to the National Food Security Act, 2013, and is therefore a nullity in the eye of law," said the division bench comprising justice Anirudhha Roy and justice Chitta Ranjan Das.

"We are, therefore, constrained to hold that the state government has transgressed the limit of delegation by obliging the fair price shop dealers to distribute the rations to the beneficiaries at their doorstep in absence of any authority to that effect in the enabling Act i.e. 'NFS Act'. If the 'NFS Act' is amended by the wisdom of the Union Legislature i.e. Parliament for doorstep delivery of food grains to the beneficiaries or invest any such power to the state government then only such a scheme can be made by the State and that can be said to be in sync with the enabling Act," the division bench observed.

The food and supplies department had in a notification cited provisions of the National Food Security Act (NFSA), claiming that it allows the state government to deliver ration at beneficiaries' doorsteps.

During the course of the hearing, the lawyer representing the state government cited clause 12 under NFSA's chapter V titled Reforms in Targeted Public Distribution System which mentions that the central and state governments shall endeavour to progressively undertake necessary reforms in the targeted public distribution system (PDS) in consonance with the role envisaged for them in this Act. The reforms shall, inter alia, include doorstep delivery of food grains, he said.

He also cited the NFSA's clause no 32 which says, "Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the state government may, continue with or formulate food or nutrition based plans or schemes providing for benefits higher than the benefits provided under this Act, from its own recourses."

But the division bench was not satisfied with the state's explanation and stalled the scheme.

The BJP welcomed the verdict. "We raised the issue of the legal status of the scheme. It was announced by Mamata to attract electorates as part of her populist politics. The court order made it clear that the scheme had no legal status since it was launched," party spokesperson Shamik Bhattacharya said.

Mamata's promise of distributing food grains at the doorstep of people, made ahead of the high-octane Assembly polls in 2021, was said to be one of the key factors behind the TMC's thumping victory despite BJP's aggressive campaign.

HOW IT UNFOLDED

February, 2021 Mamata promises Duare Sarkar scheme if her party returns to power.

May, 2021 TMC returns to power and Mamata announces implementation of the scheme shortly.

November, 2021 The scheme implemented.

November, 2021: Petition filed in High Court challenging the initiative.

December Single bench judge upheld the meal scheme by opining that a reform in the targeted public distribution system and a welfare scheme is a necessity driven measure

December, 2021 Petitioner moved division bench.

September, 2022: High court stalled the scheme saying it is legally void.

SCHEME

- Around 21,000 ration dealers reach to localities where beneficiaries reside to distribute food grains.
- The facility is available from Tuesday to Friday every week.
- Targeted beneficiaries are around 10 crore population.

The Duare Ration scheme is ultra vires to the National Food Security Act, 2013, and is therefore a nullity in the eye of law... We are, therefore, constrained to hold that the state government has transgressed the limit of delegation by obliging the fair price shop dealers to distribute the rations to the beneficiaries at their doorstep in absence of any authority to that effect in the enabling Act i.e. 'NFS Act' —Calcutta High Court

HC cautions against consent decrees

The Jammu and Kashmir High Court has cautioned the subordinate courts against passing consent decrees in collusive suits in order to avoid the registration of sale deeds and evade the stamp duty for such deeds to get their rights determined. A bench of High Court Justice Sanjeev Kumar in a note of caution to the subordinate courts in Jammu and Kashmir said, "There is a growing tendency in the litigants to file collusive suits and obtain decrees for accomplishing sinister purposes like avoiding registration of sale deeds, paying stamp duty and many a time getting their rights determined in contravention of law."

HC grants interim bail to ex-DGP Sreekumar in Gujarat riots case

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

THE Gujarat High Court on Wednesday granted interim bail to retired state Director-General of Police RB Sreekumar until November 15, in a case of alleged forgery and fabrication of evidence linked to the 2002 Gujarat riots.

Mumbai –based activist Teesta Setalvad and former IPS officer Sanjeev Bhatt are the co-accused in the case.

Sreekumar's advocate, Yogesh Ravani, said, "The state filed its chargesheet on September 20, while we had moved for bail before the Gujarat HC on the ground of health and age. The court asked us to file a bail application before the sessions court in light of the changed circumstances that have stemmed from the filing of the chargesheet. As per instructions from the high court, we will move the sessions court with a fresh bail application with interim protection from the high court."

The Ahmedabad Detection of Crime Branch (DCB) had registered an FIR accusing Sreekumar, Setalvad and Bhatt of fabricating evidence to destabilise the state government. Sreekumar was arrested on June 25.

The special investigation team (SIT) probing the case filed a 6,300-page chargesheet on September 20, citing 90 witnesses to substantiate the charges of fabrication of evidence to frame 63 persons, including the then chief minister Narendra Modi.

According to the SIT, Sreekumar misused his position as a government official, making backdated entries in a register, and filing affidavits with incorrect information before the Godhra riots inquiry commission.

The probe report claims that Setalvad sponsored Sreekumar's service litigations by providing him with lawyers.

An Ahmedabad sessions court refused bail to Sreekumar and Setalvad on July 30. While Setalvad subsequently moved the Gujarat High Court and then the Supreme Court seeking bail and the latter granted her interim bail on September 2, Sreekumar remained behind bars.

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

IN a relief for BJP MP Nishikant Dubey, the Jharkhand High Court on Wednesday ordered no coercive action against him in a case related to his entering the air traffic control (ATC) room and obtaining takeoff clearance at Deoghar airport.

Advocate Prashant Pallav appearing on behalf of Dubey said, "The court has ordered no coercive action against Nishikant Dubey, his two sons Kaniska and Mahikant, MP Manoj Tiwari and airport director Sandeep Dhingra." The court also issued notices to Deoghar Deputy Commissioner Manjunath Bhajantri, airport security in-charge Suman Anand and the officer in charge of Kunda Police Station.

The matter will be heard next on November 23. The petitioner informed the court that sunset time on that particular day was 6:03 pm and the takeoff took place at 6:17 pm. As per rules, takeoff can be done within half an hour of the sunset time, the advocate informed.

Meanwhile, Dubey grabbed the opportunity to target Chief Minister Hemant Soren, tweeting that while no coercive action has been ordered against the FIR, which was deliberately lodged against his 18 and 19-year-old sons, a notice has been issued to Bhajantri for harassing him.

The incident took place on August 31. An FIR was lodged against nine persons by Anand on September 1, charging Dubey of misusing his power for takeoff even though the airport doesn't have a night take-off or landing facility. Dubey has been alleging that Bhajantri acted as an 'agent' of Soren. This was 37th FIR against him and his family members during the last two years, he said.

NGT notice to Uttarakhand over arbitrary classification of rivers

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

A principal bench of the National Green Tribunal (NGT) on Tuesday issued notice to the Uttarakhand government seeking its response within four weeks on how and under what law the classification of perennial and non-perennial rivers in the state has been changed. The tribunal has issued notice to the state government seeking clarification on arbitrary classification of rivers or drains into perennial and non-perennial rivers.

Advocate Gaurav Kumar Bansal, appearing for petitioner Sanjay Kumar, argued before a four-judge bench headed by Chairman Justice Adarsh Kumar Goel that the state government has unconstitutionally amended the law of river mining to benefit the mining lobby. The standard of retail dumping from the river bed has been reduced from 500 metres to 25 metres, which will encourage illegal mining.

The petition also said that the Uttarakhand government has changed rules in favour of stone crushers, screening plants and ready-mix plants among others to unfairly benefit them and thus failed to maintain the hydrological, ecological and biological quality of non-perennial rivers of the state. The said circumstances not only violate the Environment Protection Act, Water Act etc but also cause damage to non-perennial rivers of the state, hence the said rules need to be quashed, the plea said.

Further, the petitioner has also alleged that the state government has also barred forest officials from collecting transit charges and the said act of preventing forest officials from performing their duty is in violation of the provisions of the Indian Forest Act.

'Hami asto': Border tourism gains momentum in J&K

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

WITH the security situation improving in the Valley and peace at the Line of Control (LoC) due to ongoing border ceasefire between Indian and Pakistani troops, the border areas, which used to be no-go areas for civilians, have been opened up for border tourism, prompting the locals to convert their houses into homestays for tourists.

The Tourism Department has opened up border areas of Gurez in north Kashmir's Bandipora district and Teetwal in border district of Kupwara for the tourists.

Both Gurez and Teetwal lie close to Line of Control (LoC) and have been quiet and calm since India and Pakistan agreed in February last year to strictly adhere to the November 2003 border ceasefire pact.

A resident of Gurez said with the guns falling silent on both sides of LoC, the residents are enjoying a new lease of life.

"We are living without any threat or fear to our lives. And this visible change on the ground has also benefited us as the Gurez has now been thrown open for the tourists," he said.

Director Tourism Kashmir Fazl ul Haseeb said anybody can go and travel to Gurez and Teetwal border areas now. "No permission is needed for visiting there. The tourists are visiting the places and enjoying the natural beauty," he said.

In order to attract the travellers to the border areas, the tourism department has been holding tourism festivals in Gurez and Teetwal since last year.

On September 3 this year, a polo match was played in Gurez among two teams of local youth after six decades. The match was a major attraction of the Grand Gurez Festival organised this year.

Besides being picturesque, Gurez is known for adventure tourism, fishing, rafting, and trekking, among others.

Earlier, in February this year Gurez was in the news after a snow cricket tournament was organised in Dawar area of Gurez in which 10 teams participated.

"After opening up Gurez and Teetwal, we are also planning to open an accessible border area of Uri in north Kashmir for the tourists," said Director Tourism Kashmir.

Uri had also been witnessing cross-border shelling and firing between Indian and Pakistani troops in the past and now is reaping the dividends of cessation of hostilities at the border due to border ceasefire pact. With the tourists visiting the once "no-go areas" and the Tourism Department also promoting these border areas, the locals are converting their houses into homestays for the tourists. A person can convert his home into home stays provided it has basic infrastructure available. Besides, tented accommodation is being set up in the border areas to accommodate tourists.

Haseeb said with further improvement in the security situation, they in collaboration with army and security forces would further liberalise visits to the border areas.

Bank of England buys govt bonds to stem sell-off

Emergency action comes a day after IMF slammed Britain's inflation-fighting budget

LONDON

THE Bank of England stepped in on Wednesday to shore up market confidence after the International Monetary Fund criticised Britain's inflation-fighting budget.

In a surprise move, the BoE announced it was temporarily buying up long-dated UK government bonds "to restore orderly market conditions".

The pound promptly slumped 1.7 per cent to $1.0552 before clawing back ground.

There was respite elsewhere, with the UK government's 30-year bond yield retreating to 4.44 per cent, having hit a 1998 peak at 5.14 per cent.

The BoE intervention followed criticism on Tuesday from the IMF, which argued that Britain's budget could increase inequality and worsen inflation. Credit ratings agency Moody's also waded in overnight with a warning about soaring debt.

"So, the Bank of England finally intervenes after coming under so much pressure to act," said City Index analyst Fawad Razaqzada. "The BoE's intervention is an attempt to soothe investor nerves after they were spooked by last week's mini-budget." Finance minister Kwasi Kwarteng's big tax cuts and energy price freeze, aimed at boosting the UK's recession-threatened economy, appeared to have had the opposite effect as traders warn of ballooning debt to pay for the incentives.

Following last Friday's budget, UK bond yields soared and the pound hit a record low at $1.0350, perilously close to parity. Critics added that Kwarteng's measures would benefit the rich more than the poorest, as millions of Britons suffer from a cost-of-living crisis.

"We have acted at speed to protect households and businesses through this winter and the next, following the unprecedented energy price rise," the Treasury said after the IMF criticism.

"We are focused on growing the economy to raise living standards for everyone," it added, blaming sky-high oil, gas and electricity prices on Russia's invasion of Ukraine.

In a highly unusual intervention, the IMF late Tuesday said it was "closely monitoring" developments and urged the government in London led by new Prime Minister Liz Truss to change tack. AFP

Ukrainian separatists urge Putin to annex occupied lands

MOSCOW

THE pro-Moscow leaders of Ukraine's Lugansk, Kherson and Zaporizhzhia regions called on President Vladimir Putin on Wednesday to formally annex the territories into Russia, claiming residents had backed the move in a referendum.

The Kremlin-backed leader of the breakaway Lugansk region, Leonid Pasechnik, made the appeal to Putin claiming residents there had been under attack for eight years by Ukraine's army.

Moscow-backed separatists have controlled large portions of Lugansk since 2014 when Russia annexed the Crimean peninsula. "Taking into account the decision of the republic's population at the referendum, I am asking you to consider making the Lugansk People's Republic a subject of the Russian Federation," Pasechnik said in a statement published by rebel officials. His announcement was quickly followed by a similar appeal from Vladimir Saldo, the Moscow-installed leader of Ukraine's southern Kherson region, which was captured by Russia after the start of Moscow's military campaign in February.

"Our residents made a historic choice and decided to become part of the multinational population of the Russian Federation, in which all people are equal before each other and before the law," Saldo said.

The Kremlin-installed leader of the partially occupied region of Zaporizhzhia, Vladimir Rogov, was the last of the three to appeal to Putin. "We, the people of Zaporizhzhia, are inspired by the heroic acts of bravery of Russian soldiers," he said in a statement. "We wish to become one state with the Russian Federation.

Debris of a railway depot ruined after a Russian rocket attack in Kharkiv | AP

In a briefing, the Ukraine military's general staff said the 1st Tank Regiment of the 2nd Motorised Rifle Division of Russia's 1st Tank Army has received untrained new troops.

The Ukrainian military also said prison convicts are reinforcing the Russian lines. It offered no evidence to support the claim, although Ukrainian security services have released audio of purportedly monitored Russian phone conversations on the issue.

The Institute for the Study of War cited an online video by a man who identified himself as a member of the 1st Tank Regiment, visibly upset, saying that he and his colleagues wouldn't receive training before shipping out to the Russian-occupied parts of the Kherson region.

"Mobilised men with a day or two of training are unlikely to meaningfully reinforce Russian positions affected by Ukrainian counteroffensives in the south and east," the institute said. Agencies

Iran launches fresh drone bombings in Iraq

Tehran: An Iranian drone bombing campaign targeting the bases of an Iranian-Kurdish opposition group in northern Iraq Wednesday has killed at least seven and wounded 28 others, the Kurdish Regional Government's Health Ministry said. The strikes took place as demonstrations continued to engulf the Islamic Republic after the death of a 22-year-old Iranian Kurdish woman who was detained by the Iranian morality police. Iran's attacks targeted Koya, some 65 kilometers east of Irbil, said a member of the Democratic Party of Iranian Kurdistan, a leftist armed opposition force banned in Iran. Iran's state-run IRNA news agency and broadcaster said the country's forces targeted bases of a separatist group in the north of Iraq with 'precision missiles'.

$3 BILLION RAILWAY TO LINK OMAN, UAE

A new $3 billion railway is to link Oman's Sohar port with Abu Dhabi, capital of the United Arab Emirates, officials said on Wednesday. The joint venture between Oman Rail and the UAE's Etihad Rail was agreed during a visit by UAE President Mohamed bin Zayed to the Omani capital Muscat.

303 - kilometre
railway network will cater to both passenger trains as well as freight trains, according to officials

47-minutes
The new railway is expected to reduce the travel time between Oman and UAE to 47 minutes from the current 1 hour 40 minutes

PART OF BIGGER NETWORK

The new railway line will join with the UAE's national network that is now under construction. When completed, Etihad Rail, the UAE network, will operate 1,200 kilometres of track connecting all seven emirates and the border of neighbouring Saudi Arabia, as well as Oman.

LINKING TWO STRATEGIC PORTS

The railway promises huge strategic, economic and social gains for both countries. It will connect Abu Dhabi to Sohar Port—a deep-sea port on the Gulf of Oman and itself a joint venture with the port of Rotterdam, bills itself as a nexus of trade between Asia and Europe. The project is expected to boost tourism activities between Oman and the UAE as well as strengthen their competitiveness in global trade

200 kph
is the expected top speed of the passenger train

China's former graft buster charged with taking bribes

BEIJING

A former top graft buster at China's ministry for intelligence and counterintelligence has been indicted on bribery charges, just weeks before a major congress of the ruling Communist Party whose leader Xi Jinping has made fighting corruption a signature issue.

Wednesday's indictment of Liu Yanping, who headed the State Security Ministry's branch of the party's Central Commission for Discipline Inspection was a further reminder of Xi's vow to attack corruption "amongst both the flies and tigers."

On Friday, former deputy police minister Sun Lijun was given a death sentence with a two-year reprieve on charges of manipulating the stock market, taking bribes and other offenses. The case involved at least two former Cabinet officials.

State media said Liu had accepted 'huge' amounts of property from others in return for favors. Those often include derailing investigations or offering promotions for cash.

He was expelled from the party earlier this month in a sign he would be indicted, tried and almost certainly handed a lengthy prison term.

TARGETED CRIME

Chinese citizen shot dead by gunmen in Pak; two injured

KARACHI

CHINESE national was shot dead and two others injured on Wednesday when an unidentified gunman opened fire inside a dental clinic in Pakistan's southern port city of Karachi, police said, in what is believed to be the latest targeted attack against Chinese citizens.

SSP (South) Asad Raza said that the attacker, in his early 30s, entered the clinic located in Karachi's Saddar area pretending to be a patient and opened fire inside the doctor's room. "The attacker killed the assistant, Ronald Chow, on the spot and injured dentist Dr Richard Hu Lee (74) and his wife Margaret (72)," the officer said. No one has claimed responsibility for the attack.

Both the doctor and his wife had been running the dental clinic for a long period of time and had not received any threats, Raza said.

SHO Saddar police station Bashir Ahmed said the doctor and his wife were out of danger at the hospital where they are being treated for bullet wounds. He said police have recovered several 9mm pistol shells from the clinic.

Bashir said they are investigating the motive behind the attack. "It appears the assailant had some dispute with the doctor and his wife," he said.

Yuan slides to 14-year low against dollar after Fed hikes interest rate

BEIJING

China's yuan fell to a 14-year low against the dollar Wednesday despite central bank efforts to stem the slide after US interest rate hikes prompted traders to convert money into dollars in search of higher returns.

A weaker yuan helps Chinese exporters by making their goods cheaper abroad, but it encourages capital to flow out of the economy. That raises costs for Chinese borrowers and sets back the ruling Communist Party's efforts to boost weak economic growth.

The yuan fell to 7.2301 to the dollar, its lowest level since January 2008. One yuan was worth about 13.8 cents, down 15% from this year's March high.

On Wednesday, a deputy central bank governor, Liu Guoqiang, held a video meeting with Chinese bankers and told them to "maintain the basic stability of the exchange rate," according to a central bank statement. It said Liu warned the bankers against betting the yuan would rise or fall.

"Maintaining stability is the top priority," the statement said.

The yuan has exceeded expectations it might fall to 7 to the dollar after the Federal Reserve started aggressive rate hikes to cool inflation that is at a four-decade high. The Fed has raised rates five times this year and says more increases are likely. By contrast, the People's Bank of China has cut interest rates to boost growth that fell to 2.2% over a year earlier in the first six months of 2022 — less than half the official 5.5% target. The yuan is allowed to fluctuate up or down 2% from its starting price each day in tightly controlled trading. That prevents big daily swings, but down days can add up to a big change over time. To shore up the exchange rate, Beijing cut the amount of foreign currency deposits Chinese banks are required to hold as reserves to 6% from 8% as of September 15. That increases the amount of dollars and other currency available to buy yuan.

DESPITE PRESSURE, BIDEN KEEPS REFUGEE TARGET AT 1.25L

WASHINGTON

US President Joe Biden on Wednesday kept the nation's cap on refugee admissions at 1,25,000 for the 2023 budget year, despite pressure from advocates to raise it even higher to meet the need after falling far short of that target this year.

Refugee advocates have been pushing the Biden administration to do more to restore the US Refugee Admissions Program. The programme suffered deep cuts under the Trump administration, which slashed admissions to a record low.

Biden raised the cap to four times that amount this year, but so far fewer than 20,000 refugees have been admitted this budget year, according to the latest count in August. Biden said in his presidential determination that the admissions should be earmarked for 40,000 refugees from Africa, 35,000 from South Asia and and 15,000 each from East Asia, Europe and Latin America. Meanwhile, the Biden administration is asking that parents of children separated at the border undergo another round of psychological evaluations to measure how traumatised they were by the Trump-era policy.

Tata Motors unveils sub-₹10L EV

Tiago.ev introductory price starts from ₹8.49 lakh for the first 10,000 customers

ARSHAD KHAN @New Delhi

INDIA'S largest electric carmaker -- Tata Motors -- has become the first automaker to launch an electric car that comes at a price tag of less than ₹10 lakh. The homegrown automajor on Wednesday launched Tiago.ev with a special introductory price starting ₹8.49 lakh for the first 10,000 customers.

Tata Motors said Tiago.ev would draw over 35% sales in the company's EV portfolio. Currently, Tata Motors retails about 4,000 EVs a month with a staggering market share of little less than 90%.

"We are looking at very good increase over our current EV sales. As you can see from the pricing and kind of the product we have come up with, volume appreciation will be high," Vivek Srivatsa, head, marketing, sales and service strategy, Tata Passenger Electric Mobility, told TNIE. The launch of Tata Motors' third EV comes right after rival automaker Mahindra & Mahindra showcased its first electric SUV, which will be launched early next year and bunch of other carmakers fast tracking their EV launches.

Tata Motors, however, is confident that despite entry of new players, it will maintain its market leadership position. "We may not have 87% market share, as it is not sustainable but we definitely will remain market leaders in the EV segment. We will have 10 EVs in next 4 years. I don't think any other competitor has that level of aggressive expansion plan," said Srivatsa.

Bookings for the Tiago.ev will start on October 10, 2022. Customers can reserve their car by paying a booking amount of ₹21, 000, at any authorised Tata Motors dealership or on the company website.

Deliveries of the EV are scheduled to commence from January 2023. Tiago.ev is offered in multiple combinations of IP67 rated battery packs (water and dust resistant) and charging options including a 24kWh battery pack.

SEC fines Oracle $23 mn for bribing officials

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

FOR the second time, Oracle has been fined by the US Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) for violating the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA). The firm has to pay $23 million to settle charges.

Oracle's subsidiaries in India, Turkey and the UAE created and used slush funds to bribe foreign officials in return for business between 2016 and 2019. The SEC order says Oracle India sales staff in 2019 used an excessive discount scheme in connection with a transaction with a transportation company, a majority of which was owned by India's Ministry of Railways (Indian SOE). One of the sales saff involved in the transaction maintained a spreadsheet that indicated $67,000 was the "buffer" available to potentially make payments to a specific Indian SOE official. About $330,000 was funneled to an entity with a reputation for paying SOE officials and another $62,000 was paid to an entity, the order says. "Creation of off-book slush funds gives rise to the risk those funds will be used improperly, which is exactly what happened at Oracle's Turkey, the UAE and India subsidiaries," said Charles Cain, SEC's FCPA Unit Chief. Oracle is said to have agreed to cease and desist from committing violations of anti-bribery, books and records, and internal accounting controls provisions of FCPA and to pay $8 million in disgorgement and $15 million penalty. "The conduct outlined by the SEC is contrary to our core values and clear policies, and if we identify such behavior, we will take action," Michael Egbert, Oracle Spokesperson told TNIE in an email.

EQUITY MARKET FALLS FOR 6TH STRAIGHT SESSION

ARSHAD KHAN @New Delhi

INDIAN equity market closed in the red for the sixth straight session with benchmark indices - Sensex and Nifty - falling nearly 1% each on Wednesday.

In the past 6 sessions, the two indices have shed more than 5%, making investors' poorer by ₹5 lakh crore as market capitalisation of all BSE listed firms has come down to ₹268.40 lakh crore from ₹283.50 lakh crore six sessions ago. As per the market experts, India's equity market, which currently commands a premium over global peers, is likely to remain under pressure as foreign investors are moving towards safe havens following rate hikes by various central banks, weakening of Indian Rupee, rise in bond yields and other prevailing challenges.

The INR again hit a fresh low on Wednesday and closed at 81.94 per US dollar, down from 81.58 in the previous session. The dollar index, which gauges the greenback's strength against 6 basket currencies, surged to 114.78, a twenty-year high, while the US 10-year Treasury yield rose above 4% for the first time in more than a decade. Foreign Institutional investors (FII) remained net sellers and sold equities worth ₹2,772 crore on Wednesday. "Investors continue to be sceptical of the domestic market's higher premium amid the ongoing global deceleration while foreign investors are fleeing emerging economies in search of safer havens. Although the domestic economy is buoyed by solid fundamentals, the stock market's appetite for risk has been hindered by the rising worries of a worldwide recession," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services. While the US Fed's 75 bps rate hike that came last week was anticipated, the hawkish stance indicating 125 bps hikes in the next meets by December 2022 has spooked investors' sentiment. Experts believe that the speed with which central banks across the globe are hiking interest rates, investors are worried that slackening growth would push key economies into recession.

India's central Bank, the RBI, is also expected to increase key lending rates by 35-50 bps on Friday. Joseph K Thomas, head of research, Emkay Wealth Management said, "Inflation has become a concern for most major economies, and the central banks are resorting to aggressive rate hikes. This move could push up inflationary pressures, proving counterproductive in the short run."

Ericsson scales up local manufacturing of 5G gear

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

TELECOM gear maker Ericsson is enhancing its local manufacturing capacities to meet India's telecom operators' demand for 5G equipment.

The Sweden-based company, while releasing a study on 5G in India, said the company is scaling its production capability in Pune with Jabil. "Our strategy is that we should build in India for India, that does need scaling up and we are scaling up our production capabilities with our partner Jabil in Pune," said Nitin Bansal, head of Ericsson India and Head of Network Solutions, South- east Asia, Oceania and India.

The company said it has done that for 4G and will ensure that it hits the milestone for 5G as well.

Meanwhile, the company in its study noted that consumer 5G readiness is high in India. It said the tendency to upgrade to 5G in urban India is two times higher than their counterparts in markets like the UK and the US where 5G has already been launched. In fact, over the past two years, India has witnessed a three times increase in smartphone users who own a 5G handset.

The study reveals that 100 million+ users with 5G- ready smartphones wish to upgrade to a 5G subscription in 2023 while more than half of them are open to upgrading to a higher data tier plan in the next 12 months.

"5G network superiority could emerge as a driver for consumer loyalty with 59% of smartphone users intending to upgrade to 5G in the first 12 months," said the company.

How high crude prices are 'breaking India's back'

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

FOREIGN minister S Jaishankar was not wrong when he said on Tuesday high oil prices are breaking India's back.

Despite cheap crude import from Russia, India's crude oil basket has averaged above $100 a barrel so far this year. As per the Petroleum Planning and Analysis Cell, a body of the Petroleum ministry, India's crude basket more than doubled in the past 3 years, taking crude prices from an average $45 per barrel in 2020-21 to $104 per barrel in 2022-23 (till September).

India's crude basket price averaged at $102.97 a barrel in April 2022, $109.51 in May, $116.01 in June, $105.49 in July, $97.40 in August and $91.23 per barrel in September so far.

"The price of oil is breaking our back. We are a $2,000 per capita economy. The energy market is under stress due to the Ukraine war and that not just the pricing but the very availability of oil has become an issue," said Jaishankar.

India is dependent on imports to meet 85% of its oil demand and 55% of its natural gas requirements. It imports majority of crude from the OPEC+ country. The country spent $122 billion on crude oil imports in 2021-22, nearly double that of $62.71 billion in 2020-21. In the first five months of the current financial year, India has already imported $64 billion of crude oil.

Dr DK Srivastava, chief policy advisor, EY India, says an 'Oil Price Stabilization Fund' may be established to minimise India's multidimensional vulnerability to global crude oil shocks. He advises the government to expand and diversify sources of oil and gas imports in order to cut the average price of the Indian crude basket.

Ever since war broke out between Russia and Ukraine, western countries are beckoning India to stop purchasing crude oil from Russia. India's oil imports from Russia have jumped over 50 times since April and now it makes up for 10% of all crude bought from overseas. Till last year, Iraq (25%), Saudi Arabia (18%) and the UAE (10%) were the top 3 crude suppliers for India. This year till July, Russia with 14% share has become the third biggest supplier to India.

As demand picks up, Nikon India to focus on digital content creator mkt

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

IMAGING major Nikon India to focus more on the digital content creator market as the demand picks up in the segment.

"We see a lot of demand from content creators, vloggers and their followers and we're keeping up based on market demand and customer preferences," Sajjan Kumar, managing director of Nikon India, told TNIE.

It recently launched Nikon V30, an entry-level mirrorless camera, made specifically for content creators. He said people are migrating to professional devices as and when their interest is increased and content creators want their content to look better. "We have introduced a few built-in features for the segment like single-hand operation where one person can shoot and communicate their audiences, 360 degree rotational LCD for output preview, LED lights indicating recording, continuous recording for 125 minutes, 4k videos, focus shifting and other handy features for them," he said. Emphasising the difference in camera market compared to 5 years before, he said, the product has seen a significant shift in terms of usage and customers after the arrival of smartphones. Nikon India holds 36% of the country's market and 38% share of the high-end segment. It records 50% growth in revenue in 2021-22 financial year compared to the previous year and hopes 17% growth in the current fiscal to reach nearly ₹900 crore, which will surpass its pre-2019 levels. However, chip shortage poses a threat to revenues estimation as some of its products are not available. "Some of the high-end products like 800mm and 200mm lenses are still in shortage due to component shortage. We are trying to smoothen the supply chain and do our best to deliver products", Kumar said.

Delhi HC grants bail to former NSE CEO, COO

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE Delhi High court on Wednesday granted bail to former NSE CEO Chitra Ramakrishna and former group operating officer Anand Subramanian in co-location scam case.

The case is being probed by the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI). The two were earlier denied bail by the Rouse District court in May. Granting bail to the two accused, the court said the CBI has completed the probe into the FIR filed in 2018 against the two for abuse of the exchange server architecture. The court noted that Chitra Ramakrishna and Anand Subramanian were both arrested for the co-location scam and that their arrests were not confined to offences related to the irregularities in the appointment of the latter.

The HC said the CBI has concluded part investigation pertaining to alleged illegalities committed by Chitra Subramanian in initial appointment of Anand Subramanian and his subsequent re-designation and other related issues but investigation pertaining to allegations made in FIR related to co-location case is still pending. The court granted both the accused bail on the condition that they furnish personal bond of ₹5 lakh each, and a surety of a similar amount in the trial court.

iPhone 14 India production credit positive, says Moody's

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

APPLE'S plans to manufacture iPhone 14 products in India is credit positive because it will diversify its manufacturing base that is highly concentrated in China, according to Moody's Investors Service.

Raj Joshi, Senior vice-president, Corporate Finance Group, Moody's Investors Service, said the manufacturing of iPhone 14 within weeks of their global launch demonstrates the maturity of the company's manufacturing capabilities in India.

"Apple has produced iPhones in India since 2017 but manufacturing of iPhone 14 within weeks of their global launch demonstrates the maturity of the company's manufacturing capabilities in India that we expect to ramp up quickly. Increasing volumes of locally-manufactured iPhones will also accelerate Apple's expansion strategy in India," said Joshi.

The US-tech giant recently said in a statement that it is excited to make iPhone 14 in India. iPhone 14 lineup introduces groundbreaking new technologies and safety capabilities. Apple started manufacturing iPhones in India in 2017 with iPhone SE. The firm will ship iPhone 14 from Foxconn's Sriperumbudur facility on the outskirts of Chennai.

Financing remains crucial challenge for gold jewellery industry: Report

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

OVER 20% of loans given to the Indian gem and jewellery industry have become non-performing assets (NPAs), resulting in the industry gaining just 2.7% of the country's total credit issuance.

A recent report by the World Gold Council on 'Jewellery market structure' points out various challenges faced by the retail gold jewellery market including financing as it has become challenging for smaller independent jewellers who tend to rely on the monthly gold scheme for funding or act as money lenders. Since the industry is highly fragmented, according to estimates of various trade bodies, the number of jewellers in India range between 5-6 lakh. The report said many have been unable to keep pace with the recent introduction of transparency measures and regulations and as a result their businesses have failed. The gold industry contributes 1.3% to Indian GDP. As mandatory hallmarking became effective from June last year, its introduction is creating a level playing field in terms of purity, WGC said.

It pointed out that national and regional chain stores will continue to gain market share in coming years as they are able to carry large inventory. According to market intelligence from Metals Focus, by 2021 chain stores (both national and regional) had achieved a 35% market share.

Ashish Pethe, Chairman, Gems and Jewellery Council (GJC) India says GST has negatively impacted retail gold bar and coin purchases. Under the GST regime, a consumer pays 3% at the time of buying a bar or coin and then pays a further 3% GST on jewellery using that bullion.

Pethe said, "With no offset of GST for the consumer when exchanging their bullion for jewellery, the consumer effectively pays double the tax. Another anomaly within the GST framework is that when an individual provides bullion for job work, he has to pay 18% GST on the making charges , while a registered dealer carrying out the same transaction has to pay just 5% GST." He added that this issue must be addressed to bring the consumer on par in terms of taxation.

IOC green signal for amending IOA constitution

After the meeting with all interested parties, the International Olympic Committee has agreed for the election to be held under newly-approved provisions

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

THE way things stand, Indian Olympic Association (IOA) seems to be heading towards resolving issues that had been plaguing the body for quite some time.

The IOA delegate, athletes' representative and the Government of India had a meeting with the International Olympic Committee (IOC) on Tuesday and it is understood that the meeting went off well. One major decision was the IOC agreeing to allow the IOA amend its constitution to include "necessary governance reforms". The IOC is hopeful that things will be resolved before the executive board meeting in December.

The IOC, in a mailed statement to this daily, said: "A joint meeting between the IOC, the Olympic Council of Asia (OCA), a representative of the Indian athletes, the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) and the Government of India took place on 27 September 2022 in Lausanne.

"All parties agreed to work together to address and resolve the governance issues affecting the IOA, and hold the IOA elections by December this year, in line with the directives given in the IOC EB decision on 8 September 2022," the statement said.

"The IOC also took note of the recent decision of the Supreme Court of India to appoint a former judge to work on the amendments of the IOA Constitution, prepare the electoral college and supervise the IOA elections," they added.

IOA elections to be held in line with IOC EB decisions made on September 8 | TWITTER

"The whole process will have to be conducted in close coordination with the IOC, and in accordance with the Olympic Charter and the basic principles of good governance within the Olympic Movement. As a first step, the IOA Constitution will be amended to include the necessary governance reforms and, as a second step, the IOA elections will be held on the basis of the newly-approved IOA Constitution."

In Indian sports, it's easier said than done. One such sticking point would be amending the constitution to bring in governance change and prepare the electoral college according to it.

Things could get worse as there are two factions. One is led by Rajeev Mehta, IOA secretary general. As of now, in the absence of former IOA chief Narinder Batra the other is led by Adille Sumariwalla, IOA vice president. Both factions seem to be at loggerheads with each other with no sign of truce.

Under the circumstances, getting the electoral college in order would be the first challenge. The Supreme Court has already appointed retired judge L Nageswara Rao for amending the constitution and hold the elections under the new provisions.

Earlier, in a July letter, the IOC had insisted that the election be held according to provisions of the existing IOA constitution and the Olympic Charter. However, after the Tuesday meeting, the IOC is fine with changing the constitution.

It needs to be seen if all the 13 provisions of the Delhi High Court order would be incorporated or whether the Supreme Court would allow the court-appointed person to make changes as required.

One such clause in the IOA constitution that could bring in significant change is the doing away with the restrictive one that says to contest for the post of president, secretary and treasurer, one has to be a member of the previous five executive councils. This has been one of the provisions even the sports ministry had been objecting to. This would pave the way for candidates who were not part of the IOA to contest.

The anxiety in the IOA is palpable as all eyes would be on the retired judge. Apart from the restrictive clause, main concern would be whether State Olympic Association will have voting rights or not?

Whether only National Sports Federations part of the Olympic programme will be allowed to vote in election? It seems the new constitution will decide which way the IOA meanders.

Shooter Mendiratta finishes fourth, bags Paris Olympic quota

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

SHOOTING has been one of India's strongest suits when it comes to Olympic sports. But even though that's the case, the same can't be said about shotgun in the country due to various reasons. However, what transpired on Wednesday was something even Nostradamus would have found it hard to foretell. Bhowneesh Mendiratta went against the script to pull a rabbit out of a hat. Taking part in the ongoing ISSF World Championship, the 23-year-old trap shooter from Faridabad, a new face at the senior circuit, punched above his weight to seal an Olympic quota for India in Osijek (Croatia).

Bhowneesh Mendiratta

This is the country's first quota in the sport. It was his first senior World Championships, but Mendiratta, ranked World No 144, went about his business like he had been around for years. He was near-flawless in the business end of the competition. Starting the day at 19th, Mendiratta needed a strong final round to advance. In fact, compatriot Prithiviraj Tondaiman had his nose in front after two days (four rounds) in the three-day event. Mendiratta did just that, returning with a perfect score (25 out of 25) to stay in contention. Prithiviraj, meanwhile, finish 22nd.

Terming Bhowneesh's effort as outstanding would be an understatement. But the job was still far from over. In the ranking match, he was up against some experienced campaigners in Rashid Al-Athba (Qatar) and Derrick Mein (USA). Bhowneesh, however, didn't seem to be perturbed and was operating with plenty of poise, taking down the clay on demand from different stations (shooters have to hit the clay from different positions (also called stations). Mendiratta just missed one shot in the end to take the No 1 spot and enter the medal round.

In the four-man medal match, where there's no room for error, Mendiratta couldn't quite replicate his earlier form and paid the price after two misses in the first 15 shots, thereby becoming the first shooter to get knocked out. Mein went on to clinch the top prize. Mendiratta was previously training under the guidance of Italian coach Daniele Di Spigno at the Manav Rachna Shooting Academy. In recent times, the youngster from Faridabad has been operating under the close watch of Mark Russell, who was appointed not so long back. On Wednesday, Mark, who was by his ward's side, wore a large smile on his face. Though Mendiratta's effort might have taken many off guard, it is not the case for everyone. "He's been shooting well in every competition. His lowest score was 115. He's been shooting 117, 120. In the last two, three competitions, he did well and that's how he made the team," a shotgun shooter, who has seen him up close in competition, said. "It (today's performance) was almost perfect. Shooting 121, hitting 25 in the last round, 24 in the ranking round," the coach added.

National Rifle Association of India (NRAI) secretary general, Kanwar Sultan Singh said, "We are extremely proud of his achievement. It gives us a great impetus towards bagging more quotas and we'll make all attempts to reach the podium."

In the women's section, Neeru, Shreyasi Singh and Manisha Keer were well below the qualification mark.

India pacers thrive on the Greenfield

VENKATA KRISHNA B @ Chennai

THE pitch at the Greenfield Stadium couldn't have been more green. On a nicely rolled out green carpet, the seamers were going to be in the game all evening. And India's new ball bowlers, Deepak Chahar and Arshdeep Singh, put the contest to bed inside three overs as they took five South Africa wickets for just nine runs on board in 2.3 overs. The early blows meant the Proteas never recovered and posted only 106 /8 on board and a watchful India chased the target in 16.4 overs (110/2) to leave Thiruvanathampuram with a 1-0 in the three-match series.

While the win would be a morale booster for India, the conditions on offer meant there was nothing to take home about. These were far from ideal conditions for teams preparing for the T20 World Cup Down in Australia. Down Under, no team will encounter conditions similar to what the hosts and South Africa encountered at Greenfield, where the pitch just looked an extension of the outfield. In cricket, irrespective of the format, the contest is dead the moment the 22-yards fails to find an apt balance between bat and ball. And in T20s, where crowds turn up in numbers to see batters dominate the bowlers, the balance more often shifts more towards the former. It is the norm of the format and expectancy world over. Had they swapped the white-ball with a red, it would have made for a good contest, especially when you saw batters play and miss deliveries trying to defend.

In that context, these were challenging conditions for batters to showcase their array of shots. The story was similar for both South Africa and India batters, but sans scoreboard pressure and required run-rate less than six, the hosts could afford to be watchful and cut down risky shots. They had had their lowest-ever powerplay total of 17/1. But unbeaten half-centuries from KL Rahul and Suryakumar Yadav completed the job for India.

South Africa's Temba Bavuma is bowled by India's Deepak Chahar in the first T20I in Thiruvananthapuram on Wednesday | BP DEEPU

BRIEF SCORES: South Africa 106/8 in 20 ovs (Maharaj 41; Arshdeep 3/32, Chahar 2/24) lost to India 110/2 in 16.4 ovs (Rahul 51 n.o, Suryakumar 50 n.o).

If India had the luxury of chasing a small total, South Africa had no such getaways. All it required from Chahar and Arshdeep was to land the ball in the right lengths and let their natural ability to move the ball both ways take over. And the right-arm, left-arm pair did exactly that. Whenever they pitched it up and made the ball move, they were in with a chance and with batters constantly looking to keep the scoreboard moving, they were made to play away from the body and as a result, the two seamers got to open the defences at will. Temba Bavuma, Quinton de Kock, Rilee Rossouw and David Miller perished staying rooted the crease, with minimum foot movement to offer. Tristan Stubbs perished going after a wide delivery to leave Proteas tottering at 9/5. Their lower-order, especially Keshav Maharaj, did a commendable job to bat out the innings. It was no doubt a horrid show with the bat, but South Africa will not be reading too much about the result, just like India.

Spain tops Portugal late to reach final four

AP @ Madrid

LUIS Enrique was ready for the criticism to start pouring out back home. He knew another setback so close to the World Cup would raise questions about his team and his work. Then a late goal changed it all, and it was all joy and praise for La Roja heading into soccer's showcase event. Spain scored an 88th-minute goal to end its winless streak against Portugal on Tuesday and advance in the Nations League to complete the Final Four lineup.

The late goal by Álvaro Morata secured a 1-0 victory that allowed Spain to overtake Portugal in Group A2 and join Croatia, Italy and the Netherlands in the finals to be played in June next year in the Netherlands.

Spain needed a victory to return to the Final Four after losing last year's final to France. Portugal won the competition's inaugural edition at home in 2019 but hasn't made it past the group stage since then. Spain struggled to create chances until Dani Carvajal found Nico Williams inside the area and the young Athletic Bilbao forward headed the ball back across the box for an easy strike by Morata into the open net.

Switzerland, coming off consecutive victories over Portugal and Spain, defeated the Czech Republic 2-1 at home to avoid relegation to League B.

Meanwhile, Norway lost 2-0 against Serbia in the League B game.

RESULTS

- A2: Portugal 0-1 Spain, Switzerland 2-1 Czech Republic
- B1: Ukraine 0-0 Scotland, Republic of Ireland 3-2 Armenia
- B2: Albania 1-1 Iceland
- B4: Sweden 1-1 Slovenia, Norway 0-2 Serbia
- C2: Kosovo 5-1 Cyprus, Greece 3-1 Northern Ireland

NATIONAL GAMES

Wrestlers and lifters all set to add glitter a day after opening ceremony

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

THE opening ceremony of India's prestigious multi-discipline sporting extravaganza, National Games, will be held in Ahmedabad on Thursday. Though competitions in a few disciplines like table tennis, kabaddi and lawn bowls have already started, the opening ceremony will also signal the beginning of competitions in other sports in six cities across Gujarat and New Delhi.

Olympic medallists like Neeraj Chopra, PV Sindhu, Bajrang Punia and Ravi Dahiya though will be conspicuous by their absence, the event will witness presence of stars like weightlifter Mirabai Chanu, shuttler Laskhya Sen, members of Olympic bronze medal winning men's hockey team and athletes, who recently bagged medals at the 2022 Commonwealth Games in Birmingham.

A day after the opening ceremony, wrestling and weightlifting competitions will start in Gandhinagar with Mirabai being the major attraction. After the historic silver at the Tokyo Games last year, she also pocketed 49kg gold at the CWG cementing her status as one of the best lifters the country has produced so far. "Mirabai will be competing in 49kg at the event. Top eight weightlifters in each weight category will compete at the Games. Competitions will be held in seven weight categories each in men's and women's sections," Vijay Sharma, head coach of the national weightlifting team, told this daily.

However, Commonwealth Games gold medallist Jeremy Larinnunga, silver medallist Sanket Sargar and bronze medallist Gurdeep Singh will skip the event being held after a gap of seven years. "Sanket, who sustained an elbow injury at the CWG, has been given rest. Jeremy is also recovering from the injury he sustained during the CWG. A stress fracture has been detected in Gurdeep's hand while we were in St Louis, USA for a rehab camp and hence he was also advised four-week rest," added the coach.

Like weightlifting, wrestling stars like Bajrang and Ravi along with double Worlds medallist Vinesh Phogat and 2022 CWG gold medallist Sakshi Malik will also skip the event. Both Bajrang and Vinesh suffered injuries at the Worlds, where they bagged a bronze medal each. Bajrang suffered a head injury while Vinesh injured her right knee during the bouts.

In absence of senior pros, Naveen, who clinched a 74kg gold in Birmingham, will lead the men's freestyle team while Divya Kakran, who finished with a 68kg bronze at CWG, will headline the women's campaign.

"Some of the CWG medallists including Bajrang, Ravi, Vinesh and Sakshi are not competing in the Gujarat event but others like Divya, Pooja Gehlot, Mohit Grewal will compete in the wrestling event," Vinod Tomar, assistant secretary of the Wrestling Federation of India, told this daily.

The wrestling competitions will begin with qualification, repechage and medal rounds in six weight categories - 57kg and 97kg of men's freestyle, 67kg and 87kg of men's Greco-Roman and 62kg and 76kg of women's wrestling. This will be the 36th edition of the Games. The previous edition was held in Kerala with Services topping the medal tally followed by the hosts and Haryana.

Kremlin rubbishes allegations of sabotage, says gas leak is hurting Russia

A large disturbance in the sea can be observed off the coast of the Danish island following a series of leaks on two natural gas pipelines running from Russia | AP

ENERGY

BRUSSELS : The European Union suspects that damage to two underwater natural gas pipelines was sabotage and is warning of retaliation for any attack on Europe's energy networks, a senior official said on Wednesday, as energy companies began ramping up security.

The episode underscored the vulnerability of Europe's energy infrastructure and further heightened tensions in the continent that has been rocked by the war in Ukraine. Poland and some experts said Russia was probably to blame and could benefit from further market instability.

Seismologists reported that explosions rattled the Baltic Sea before unusual leaks were discovered on Tuesday on two underwater natural gas pipelines running from Russia to Germany.

The incidents came as the EU struggles to keep a lid on soaring gas and electricity prices.

"All available information indicates those leaks are the result of a deliberate act," EU foreign policy chief Josep Borrell said in a statement on behalf of the bloc's 27 members. "Any deliberate disruption of European energy infrastructure is utterly unacceptable and will be met with a robust and united response."

Some European leaders and experts pointed to possible sabotage given the energy standoff with Russia.

The three leaks were reported on the Nord Stream 1 and 2 pipelines, which were filled with natural gas but were not delivering the fuel to Europe.

The pipelines allow gas to be piped to Germany without transiting through Ukraine or Poland. The extent of the damage, along with the political ramifications, raises serious doubts about the future of the Nord Stream project. Germany was heavily criticised for the project by the US and many of its European partners, which said that it only increased Europe's reliance on Russian gas imports.

While it remains unknown who might be responsible for the damage, given its undersea location, Polish Foreign Minister Zbigniew Rau said that the leaks could be part of Russia's hybrid war on NATO.

"The explosions took place very close to Danish territorial waters, but not inside them, because that would have meant NATO territory," Rau said during a discussion at the Center for Strategic and International Studies in Washington.

Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov said allegations that Russia could be behind the incidents were "predictable and stupid."

He told reporters in a conference call that the damage has caused Russia huge economic losses.

The head of the Danish Energy Agency, Kristoffer Böttzauw, expects gas to keep flowing out of the holes until the end of the week. Only then, he told Danish media, can experts "try to get out and investigate what the cause is, and approach the pipes."

The gas is not poisonous, experts say, but contains methane which is a potent greenhouse gas responsible for global warming.

Tough to establish who is responsible

Anders Puck Nielsen, a researcher with the Center for Maritime Operations at the Royal Danish Defence College, said that it would be hard to establish who is responsible and just as tough to prevent similar incidents

SWISS GLACIERS MELTING AWAY AT RECORD RATE

Switzerland's glaciers lost six per cent of their total volume this year due to a dry winter and repeated summer heatwaves, shattering previous ice melt records, a report revealed on Wednesday

Drastic scale of glacial retreat

- The study by the Cryospheric Commission (CC) of the Swiss Academy of Sciences laid bare the drastic scale of glacial retreat which is only set to get worse
- "2022 was a disastrous year for Swiss glaciers: all ice melt records were smashed," CC said, adding that 2% loss in 12 months had previously been considered 'extreme'

Impossible to slow the melting

- "It's not possible to slow down the melting in the short term," said glaciology professor Matthias Huss, head of Glacier Monitoring, which documents long-term glacier changes in the Alps
- If carbon dioxide emissions are reduced and the climate protected, "this might save about one third of the total volumes in Switzerland in the best case", he said

Biden unveils plans to tackle hunger, obesity

FOOD SECURITY

WASHINGTON: The White House announced on Wednesday billions of dollars in pledges from major corporations to craft a national strategy on ending the twin US challenges of hunger and obesity.

The private sector pledges were unveiled as President Joe Biden was hosting what the administration touted as the first big White House summit on food and diet since Richard Nixon was in office more than half a century ago.

Nearly 42% of American adults are technically obese and about 10% of US households suffer food insecurity, as per the latest government statistics.

Officials briefing reporters said that $8 billion in public and private sector commitments already made include pledges from more than 100 organisations, ranging from hospitals to tech companies.

GE, the multinational energy, aerospace and healthcare company, and food industry innovation specialists Food Systems for the Future are set to launch a $2.5 billion private investor coalition over the next three years.

Kyiv fights cyber warfare with ally's help

SAFETY

PARIS: Hackings, network sabotage and other cyber warfare campaigns are being intensely deployed by both sides as Russia's invasion of Ukraine grinds on, though the covert operations have not proved decisive on the battlefield—at least so far.

Western allies initially feared a tsunami of cyberattacks against Ukraine's military command and critical infrastructure, hindering its ability to resist the Russian forces.

As of mid-September, the Cyber Peace Institute, an NGO, counted nearly 450 attackscarried out by 57 different entities on either side.

Yet with European and US help, Kyiv has largely withstood the high-tech onslaught.

"Large-scale cyberattacks... occurred, but it's generally agreed that they have clearly failed to produce the 'shock and awe' effect some predicted," as per Alexis Rapin, a researcher at the University of Quebec.

Another factor may be the massive help Ukraine has had from its allies, including software and expertise to protect its systems as well as counter-attacks that may be hampering Moscow's cyber strategy.

Australian state declares biggest hydro scheme

ENVIRONMENT

SYDNEY: Australia's eastern state of Queensland unveiled plans on Wednesday to build the world's largest pumped hydroelectric energy storage scheme in a major shift towards renewables for the fossil fuel-rich region.

The project, promised to be delivered by 2035, would have five gigawatts of 24-hour storage—more than double Australia's largest pumped hydro scheme, Snowy 2.0.

Amanda McKenzie, chief executive of the Climate Council, noted Queensland's transition plan was now among the most ambitious in Australia.

"Queensland is now aiming for 60% by 2030, compared to Victoria which pledged 50% by 2030 and no specific target for New South Wales," she said.

Pumped hydro technology allows for the long-term storage of renewable energy like power generated by solar and wind.

"We will use cheap solar electricity during the day to pump water up the mountain to store it," Queensland's deputy premier Steven Miles said. "Then at night we can release the water to generate electricity. It's like a giant battery."

Oldest chimp of Guinea dies at 71

Guinea's oldest chimpanzee and one of the last members of a globally famous endangered community has died in solitude around the age of 71, the environment ministry said. Fana, a female chimp born around 1951, was part of a troop that gained global fame for uncanny abilities to use tools. The tiny community of apes lives in a forest around the village of Bossou, in the far south-eastern corner of the country. Fana's death brings the number of Bossou chimpanzees down to just six or seven. Her left upper limb has been paralysed since she took a bad fall nearly 25 years ago She lived alone as she became less mobile. Her body was found on September 19 and she was buried the next day.

Cuba begins to turn on lights

CALAMITY

Cuban officials said they had begun to restore some power Wednesday after Hurricane Ian knocked out electricity to the entire island while devastating some of the country's most important tobacco farms when it hit the island's western tip as a major storm. At least two people were reported killed. The Energy and Mines Ministry announced it had restored energy to three regions by activating two large power plants in Felton and Nuevitas and was working to get others back on line. Lights started to flicker on Havana, but much of the city and other parts of western Cuba remained without power on Wednesday in the wake of hurricane, which advanced northward to Florida.

LET'S PLAY WAZZA

Sudan traditional wind instrument trumpets harvest time

CULTURE

EAST GANIS: Near the lush fields of his village in Sudan's southern Blue Nile state, Youssef Ismail has crafted a traditional horn-like instrument used for generations to usher in the harvest season.

"We make new wazza instruments every year," Ismail, in his 70s, told AFP about the wooden wind instrument that is often longer than a grown man.

"We learned this craft from our parents."

He assembled pieces of the conical gourd plant, meticulously cut and washed, to create a long trumpet with a bell-shaped end which produces a bright, loud and festive sound.

In the village of East Ganis, like in some other Blue Nile communities, "we use it to celebrate the harvest season", which typically begins in November after the wet season, Ismail explained.

Agriculture is a major economic sector in Sudan, a country of 45 million people and one of the world's poorest.

About 43% of its labour force works in agriculture which makes up 30% of the economy according to the United Nations and World Bank estimates.

After more than 120 people were killed in clashes over access to land in Blue Nile state in July, the wazza was also played to celebrate a halt in violence, resident Ahmed Idriss said.

Little is known about its history, but the wazza "has strong links to rituals performed by the communities of the Blue Nile", explained Mohammed Soliman, a music professor at Sudan University of Science and Technology.

Dafallah Ali Mustafa, 51, founder of the Sudanese Traditional Music Centre in the capital's twin city of Omdurman, has reserved pride of place for the wazza.

Wazzas, which are particularly common among the ethnic Funj people in Sudan's south, vary in size, with some as long as two metres.

The size of each instrument determines its tone range, and wazza players perform in a band of up to 13 members.

The band leader "usually plays the smallest instrument", Soliman said.

Some of the players would also use animal horns to tap their wazza for percussive effect.

Ismail, himself a member of a wazza band, said he expects future generations will carry on the tradition.

"We taught our children how to make and play the instrument," he said. "They will keep it alive after we are gone."

Body of missing US skier recovered

CLIMATE

The body of a famed US extreme skier who went missing this week after falling from the world's eighth-highest mountain was recovered Wednesday and transported to Nepal's capital. Hilaree Nelson, 49, was skiing down from the 8,163-metre summit of Mount Manaslu with her partner, Jim Morrison, on Monday when she fell off the mountain. Her body was flown by helicopter to a hospital in Kathmandu where doctors planned to perform an autopsy. Rescuers searching by helicopter located Nelson's body on Wednesday, when bad weather hampered their search. Hundreds of climbers and their local guides were attempting to reach the summit during Nepal's autumn climbing season. Nelson, from Telluride, Colorado, and Morrison, from Tahoe, California, are extreme skiers who reached the summit of Mount Lhotse, the world's fourth highest mountain, in 2018.

Celebrity designer Shloka Sudhakar's new jewellery line is here to cater to festive and wedding shoppers

MONIKA MONALISA

If you think a bride takes a lot of time to choose her trousseau, then wait for her to pick her jewellery. It is not just a mammoth task to pick the right jewellery but also to pick something that is timeless and can be reused. Celebrity designer Shloka Sudhakar launched her new jewellery line to cater for the festive and wedding season ahead.

The inspiration for the gemstone-heavy works, Sudhakar says, is from the Victorian era. "I have also kept the Indianness with polkis. I have used patterns but blended them with contemporary designs. I also have designs with navaratna, the nine gemstones," says Sudhakar.

Sudhakar also took care of the price factor in the jewellery lines. "The other things that I looked into are the price constraints. We have used a lot of uncut diamonds. Though they are diamonds, they are priced better than solitaires. These days brides look for jewellery pieces that are inexpensive but have value for money," says Sudhakar, adding that each item is designed in such a way that it can work as a standalone piece.

The idea of getting into designing jewellery hit her when many of her clients started discussing the jewellery designs as well. "There are many clients who come down to meet me. They come up with a lot of ideas like what jewellery they should be going with and what jewellery they should pair their whole ensemble with. That's when it struck me that jewellery is also something that needs a lot of designing and thought," says Sudhakar.

Re-establishing herself as a jewellery designer was not easy. "People have questions about the quality. So I wanted to tie up with someone who is known for quality work and then Sri Ganesh Jewellery came into picture," says Sudhakar, who has decided to put out her designs every quarter.

'MY FILM IS GREATER THAN ME'

Hrithik Roshan and Pushkar-Gayathri on Vikram Vedha, filmmaking as a collaborative effort and what excites them in a remake

KARTIK BHARDWAJ

If Hrithik Roshan had to draw a line demarcating the shift in his career, it would cut through Kaabil (2017). In the rape-revenge drama, the actor played a blind voice-over artiste, veins popping, slamming doors, seeking vengeance for his lover's murder. "I got tired of looking at my shots," he shares. "I was hiding a lot of myself because I was afraid of my shortcomings, my failings. After Kaabil I started being more of myself."

Although the lavish celebration of Hrithik's Greek-god-persona, along with his sturdy action and equally flowy dance moves, resulted in the 2019 colossal hit War, he felt that the actor in him was slipping away. "After Kaabil and Mohenjo Daro (2016), I got myself an acting coach and asked him to see all my films. I asked him to point out my repetitive expressions to rework them. I don't think I am a natural actor. I might know the craft because I watched actors, was an assistant to my father and was born in the film industry. I knew the DNA of a hero, but I was missing the essence of an actor."

With Vikram Vedha, the Hindi remake of the Tamil original of the same name, Hrithik seems to have found a balance between heroic masala entertainment and content-driven cinema. The film is being helmed by director duo Pushkar and Gayathri, who made the 2017 original as well.

"The greatest thing about Vikram Vedha was being part of its ts screenplay. I have enjoyed being an actor in this film. But it is still a part. I am a shade of the painting, not the complete picture. It's refreshing," he says.

Hrithik also credits his co-actor Saif Ali Khan, who plays the dutiful cop Vikram in the film, for accentuating his acting prowess. "Saif has always been a real actor. He never tried to be 'The Hero' even when his peers were trying to exuberate that swag. When I was opposite him, I knew I had to be as real. Every little mistake, every moment I was extra would have felt spotlighted on camera," he explains.

It takes a sense of security for a superstar to work with co-stars, who have the potential to attract the limelight towards them. Hrithik, however, takes this as sharing the load. He has exceptionally shone in ensemble or two-hero films like War, Zindagi Na Milegi Dobara (2011) and Kabhi Khushi Kabhie Gham (2001). "Multi-starrer films make your work much easier," he says. "For me, the more the merrier. Working with multiple actors in films like ZNMD, War and now in Vikram Vedha pushes you to do better. Every time I have done a two-hero or a multi-starrer film it has only been more fun for me."

> Saif has always been a real actor. He never tried to be 'The Hero' even when his peers were trying to exuberate that swag
> – Hrithik Roshan

More than that, the actor believes in films being a collaborative medium. "My film is greater than me," he announces. "You can't make something better if it is not bigger than you. I am a collaborator working towards lifting the film. The time when you just had to focus on your performance in a film has passed now."

Pushkar and Gayathri back Hrithik on this. They reminisce about the time when he called them home before the shoot began. "Treat me like a new actor. I will do whatever you ask me to do." This was the first thing he said to the director duo. "This is a superstar saying that. Be it Hrithik or Saif or any other actor in the film, nobody did anything that was for their image. It was always for the character," shares an elated Pushkar.

With a remake, comparisons are bound to happen. A lot of times films are traced shot by shot with the original and serve only as profit multipliers. The remakes are also considered safe bets in terms of business. "A better business decision would have been making two films in the time we made a remake," says Pushkar, laughing. "Actually, it took us six to eight months to just confirm that we will be involved in the remake. We needed to find something exciting to make the film again. When Hrithik and Saif got on board, we found that zeal."

"There was no going back after that," adds Gayathri.

VROOMING FOR A CAUSE

To celebrate Wildlife Week, a historic drive is being organised; show stoppers are 1956 Mercedes-Benz 300s, Jaguar Mark 5 Drophead

MONIKA MONALISA

It is going to be a glamorous Sunday morning with old-time beauties like the 1956 Mercedes-Benz 300s, and Jaguar Mark 5 Drophead Coupe taking to the roads in Bengaluru. To celebrate the 68th Wildlife Week 2022 – from Oct 2-8 – the Wildlife Department along with the Federation of Historic Drive of India is organising a Historic Drive. "The 1956 Mercedes-Benz 300s, a very rare car, is going to be on the roads of Karnataka for the first time. There are a handful of old Fiats and Ambassadors. Today, you hardly see them on the roads," says Dr Ravi Prakash, a vintage car collector.

According to Prakash, who is spearheading the event, the theme of the event is 'recovering key species for ecosystem restoration'."The theme is to raise awareness of the critically endangered species of flora and fauna in our ecosystems, with a view to generate and implement workable solutions to conserve them. We were always involved with the Wildlife Department for their programmes," says Prakash.

More than 80 vintage vehicles are going to take off from Vidhana Soudha and will go around the city to finally meet near the Wildlife Department office near Sankey Tank. "We thought we would have around 50 vehicles but now we have stopped the entry and we already have around 80 entries both two-wheelers and four-wheelers," says Prakash.

Prakash recalls he has been part of various events, starting from cancer awareness to saving heritage structures in the city. "I have been involved with this vintage car movement for almost 40 years but whenever we have an event, we have put the social cause in front," says Prakash.

2 We celebrate Dasara on a large scale. How do I compensate for all the binge-eating that I am going to do?

A: Thanks to aging, gravity pulls every part of your body down from your face, bust and butt. Apart from correct posture and right innerwear, it's important to strength train your pectoral muscles and all other major muscle groups as it helps tone and builds lean muscle mass, which helps your twins look perkier and lifts your butt. It's never too late to start. Please enroll yourself into a good online strength training class or a gym close to your house and work out under the guidance of a certified trainer.

Conquering calcium deficiency

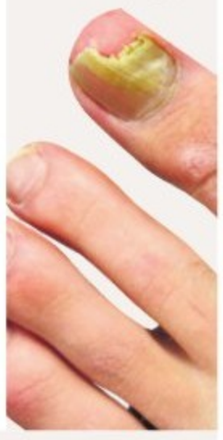
DIYA MARIA GEORGE

The pain in our bones after a rare jogging session, the nails that keep chipping even after all the pedicure and manicure treatments, and the constantly tired vibe that is a gift from our hectic work schedule, are all gentle reminders to re-evaluate our bone health. Even though our body constantly remodels the bones throughout our life, the process becomes slower over time and we don't pay attention to it until it causes us pain. This is where we need to be aware of our calcium levels. "Calcium is responsible for bone and teeth health and regulating heart beats. Deficiency of calcium, especially in women after the age of 40, is common but if not acknowledged properly, it can lead to severe health risks," shares Dr Aafrin Shabbir, consultant physician and diabetologist, Gleneagles Global Health City.

She offers her knowledge on the major causes of calcium deficiency, common symptoms, alarm signs and solutions.

SYMPTOMS

- Bone pain
- Muscle pain
- Weakening of bone strength
- Brittle nails, insomnia, fatigue
- Arrhythmia (irregular heartbeat)
- Carpopedal spasms (stiffness in hands and legs)



ALARM SIGNS

In Carpopedal spasms, people's hands can get twisted and become stiff suddenly.

Muscle pain in the side of the thighs.

Pain in the bones while bending or walking.

Extreme cases lead to fits, palpitations and an uneasy feeling.

Rickets, osteoporosis or diseases that can soften your bones.

ROLE OF ROBOTS

Here's how robotic surgery is changing the future of healthcare

DR SOMASHEKHAR S P

TECHNOLOGY today has completely transformed the healthcare sector. Every day, several lives are improving with the advancement in surgical treatment. The advent of robotic-assisted surgery (RAS) has led to an exciting time as surgeons can now perform complex and new procedures with ease leading to better clinical outcomes for several lives.

With further progress in artificial intelligence (AI), machine learning and data analytics, medical devices have now enabled clinicians to personalise medicine like never before. Doctors are now able to access revelatory insights into individual patients in real-time thus making the entire healthcare ecosystem more reliable and accessible.

The success of this assistance is witnessed across varied fields such as – spine surgeries, cranial, orthopaedics, urology, general surgery, gynaecology, neurology, cardio-thoracic and gastroenterology among many others. Leveraging technology with better utilisation of human resources has also helped the hospitals in achieving operational cost effectiveness while delivering good outcomes.

Robot-Assisted Surgery - The Game Changer

Robotic surgery, also known as robot-assisted surgery, enables doctors to execute various types of surgeries and allows them to act with more precision and flexibility which may not be possible otherwise. The machine integrates advanced computer technology with the experience of the skilled surgeon and provides them with a 10x magnified, high-definition, 3D images of the body's intricate anatomy. The surgeon makes use of the controls in the console to use the special surgical instruments that are smaller and more flexible than a human hand. The robot then replicates the surgeon's hand movements while minimizing hand tremors and allowing the surgeon to operate with enhanced precision, dexterity, and control even during the most complex procedures.

As the technology offers a minimally invasive surgery that results in smaller scars, shorter hospital stays, faster normalcy, and fewer complications, it is rapidly gaining momentum in the healthcare space.

Advantages

Robotic surgery allows the localisation of diseases and provides a highly refined action to address them.

- Increased accessibility and better decision making
- Less tissue damage and faster recovery
- Lesser pain due to smaller incisions and fewer chances of contracting infections
- Minimal blood loss and lesser blood transfusions
- Faster recovery and lesser stay at the hospital
- Greater precision than the traditional methods

During the Covid-19 crisis, healthcare facilities not only utilised robots in the operating room but also to help reduce exposure to pathogens and support healthcare workers. Hence, the sector is now witnessing increased demand for robotic surgeries as the procedure allows social distancing with lesser people around the patient and robot.

'KANTARA IS DIFFERENT FROM KGF'

'Kantara is a film that should be told to our future generation'

...says Rishab Shetty, as he talks about his upcoming directorial Kantara, which has a legendary canvas mounted on a rooted story and yet has a universal appeal

In conversation with Cinema Express, producer Vijay Kirgandur speaks about Rishab Shetty directorial Kantara and reveals that there are 14 films in the pipeline for the Hombale Films banner

A SHARADHAA

HOMBALE Films banner, known for producing films like the KGF franchise, is gearing up for the release of Kantara on September 30. Besides directing the film, Shetty also plays the lead role in Kantara, which captures the spirit and culture of the coastal belt.

While there are expectations on the banner to release more pan-India films, the producer reveals that they have now decided to release Kantara in multiple languages. "This is because the distinct storyline of the film will surely intrigue the fans globally," Vijay says.

On the other hand, he also asserts that Kantara's genre is different from that of their previous film KGF. "While KGF was set in the backdrop of a gold mine, Kantara is an ecological drama set in the rural hinterland. The film reflects on the sacred customs, traditions, hidden treasures and generational secrets of rugged yet alluring terrains of Coastal Karnataka," he adds. He futher says that the eerily breathtaking visuals interwoven with fast cuts will incite suspense. That apart, the story also has elements of folklore and explores love and drama angles.

According to Vijay, "the content is the king," and once he locks the project, he lets the director take the complete creative liberty to work on the film. And he is not the one who would interfere in daily developments concerning the shooting.

Speaking about Shetty, Vijay says, "He is a National Award winner! I need not say much about him. Rishab is an artist who is very passionate about cinema. Garuda Gamana Vrishabha Vahana, which he directed and starred in, became a cult classic. And everyone will get to witness a new side of him in Kantara," he adds.

Meanwhile, spilling beans about the slew of much-anticipated projects of Hombale films, Vijay says that the shoot for the Prabhas-starrer Salaar is underway, and they have planned to shoot abroad. "Srimurali-starrer Bagheera is also currently on floors. We do have three more untitled films starting this year and altogether we have14 films in the pipeline. We hope to begin shooting for a new pan-India project from next year onwards," he signs off.

Rishab Shetty

CE FEATURES

WHETHER as a director or as an actor, Rishab Shetty has always strived to step out of his comfort zone. The filmmaker, who spoke to CE ahead of the release of his upcoming directorial, Kantara, asserted that he is a person who does not believe in 'Luck by Chance', and rather enjoys going that extra mile, and giving his maximum effort while leaving the result to take its own course. "There is no such thing as a comfort zone in life. A comfort zone is an addiction, it is not a necessity. Lately, I've realised that nothing has come easy to me. At one point, I started enjoying swimming against the tide," says Rishab, who has once again explored themes of human-nature conflict through his film.

Rishab's inspiration to tell the story of Kantara came to him right in his hometown (Keradi) during the middle of the Covid lockdown. "It all happened during a conversation with a boy living in the village when he happened to share an incident about his father. The conflict between the inhabitants and forest officers that took place in the '90s caught my interest. The one-line grew out of that and then we developed the characters and story around that."

Even though the film is designed to evoke senses of mystique, thrill, and unpredictability, what captivates Rishab the most is the film's emotional core. "It is a film from our land, from our roots, stories that are heard through generations, untapped and deeply rooted to our culture," says Rishab, who believes that the more regional a story, the more global it can get. He further adds that the film is for children as well. Kantara is a dandakathe (a legendary story), and my intention is that such stories should be passed down to the new generations. The film makes for a commercial entertainer with action, comedy, romance, thriller elements, and more. Despite all that, the film still aims to give a better understanding of folklore, traditions, and culture.

Produced by Vijay Kirangandur's Hombale Films, Kantara consists of an ensemble cast that has Kishore, Sapthami Gowda, Prakash Thuminad, Pramod Shetty, and Achyuth Kumar in supporting roles. As a director, actor, and writer, Rishab Shetty effortlessly juggles a multitude of responsibilities, when asked about how he manages to do that, he replies, "I won't be able to achieve anything if I think I can do all of this alone. I have a dedicated team of technicians and professionals who help execute my vision. I want to share the credit with all of them."

'MY STORIES ARE DRAWN FROM MY LIFE EXPERIENCES'

Director Vijayaprasad discusses his upcoming rom-com

CE FEATURES

VIJAYAPrasad, a director who has carved his own niche in the Kannada film industry, is known for blending comedy with double entendre. But his stories always carry a vital message. His next Totapuri also boasts of an interesting content. "It is a simple romantic drama about the coexistence of humans in society. We are used to seeing stories about religious coexistence, portraying bloodshed and riots. However, the specialty of Totapuri is that it has characters from different backgrounds who live in peace and harmony. The film is based on things I've observed in life and some of my own experiences of having traveled with people of different religions from my childhood," says the director.

Vijayaprasad is someone who has found a lot of appreciation for his writing. When asked about his writing process, he says, "My stories are drawn from my life experiences. I'm a keen observer of everything around me. I see the good, the bad, the light and the darkness. An incident or an issue should haunt me to come up with a subject. I build characters and dialogues simultaneously, and then form the story. It is only later that I develop it as a full-bound script."

Ask Vijayaprasad, how he manages to infuse adult comedy and a social message in his films, he says, "Since I lost my father when I was young, I got to explore the world very early in my life. It helped me see the reality behind many faces. I understood the difference between what's real and what's not. I went in-depth about understanding the world, and realised that it's all about being happy and keeping everybody around you also happy. That's why I intend to entertain through my films and in life as well," signs off the filmmaker.

Forgers of the rings

NAVEIN DARSHAN

ACTORS Charles Edwards and Robert Aramayo had quite different shoes to fill in The Rings of Power as Celebrimbor and Elrond, respectively. While the former plays a role that has scanty references in the Tolkienian world including The Lord of The Rings, the latter plays a fan-favourite lead character that has immense importance in both the book and the Peter Jackson trilogy. Aramayo states that Elrond is a different character in the new prequel, as he is young and curious to learn more from life, as opposed to the laid-back version portrayed by Hugo Weaving. Edwards, on the other hand, feels that playing an important character that created the rings of power with meager information is his biggest challenge.

Excerpts from the conversation:

How do you think the lively Elrond in The Rings of Power becomes jaded in The Lord Of The Rings?
Aramayo: Elrond witnesses many defeats and equally fruitless victories in his long life span, I guess that makes him indifferent to everything around him. But my version has just begun and he hasn't lived the numbing phase of his life.

How was Celebrimbor fleshed out as a complete character?
Edwards: I have to thank showrunners JD Payne and Patrick McKay for it. Since they have a deep understanding of the Tolkienian world, it came in handy for them to fill in the gaps in my character. There is little information about him in the books. Everyone knows that he is the one who forges the rings, but nobody knows the path he crossed to reach there. It is a very unique character to play.

Aramayo, you are a part of both The Game of Thrones and The Rings of Power. Did you notice any similarities?
Aramayo: Both series are fantastic fantasies, which accommodate intriguing long-format storytelling. They are unique in their own ways. As an actor, I had very different responsibilities in both projects, so it would be hard for me to compare them. But I am just extremely glad that both the shows exist.

Do you relate to Celebrimbor in any way?
Edwards: Yes, I do. Celebrimbor is at a crossroads at the beginning of The Rings of Power. He isn't satisfied with his creations and seeks a project to fulfil his thirst for excellence. I have been in a very similar space as an actor.

Do you have a favourite scene from the episodes that premiered so far?
Aramayo: I would pick Elrond's first conversation with Prince Durin in Khazad-Dum. As we know, elves are taller and dwarves are shorter than average men. Fitting both Elrond and Durin in the same frame was quite a challenging task. Usually, in such cases, they shoot it with dummies instead of the other person using VFX. But Owain Arthur and I were present during our individual shots maintaining eye contact to make sure the emotions were real.

Edwards: Thankfully, our directors asked us to focus only on emotions and not on the technicalities. So it becomes easy for us to be in sync with the character as much as possible. The entire cast shared great chemistry on the sets and we worked with the happiness of creating something beautiful. I guess it has translated well on screen.

Why do you think The Rings of Power warrants a watch from the non-fans of the book?
Aramayo: It is an accessible fantasy series that requires no knowledge of Tolkien to get engrossed. Apart from men, it has other beings and it is quite interesting to see the world through their eyes.
Edwards: The Rings of Power is a very inclusive and hugely diverse series, both in terms of its characters and actors. Tolkien often speaks touchingly about the human condition of being alive and its purpose in his books. I see this is a universal theme and it is prevalent in our show. Such explorations are timeless.
